Train Strike Averted

MONTREAL (CP) — The CPR and the Brotherhood of Railroad Trainmen settled their contract dispute early today, ending the threat of a nation-wide strike Monday.

The settlement of the dispute, largely over a series of complicated work rules, came after six days of talks between the railway, the union and federal mediator William Dickie of Toronto.

If the 6,000 trainmen had gone on strike Monday, it would have halted all train operations on the CPR's 17,000 miles of track.

The railway and union apparently agreed earlier on an eight per cent wage increase.

Nehru Gears For War

NEW DELHI (Reuters)—India declared a nation-wide state of emergency Friday as Prime Minister Nehru said Chinese border attacks are a virtual invasion of the whole country.

President Radhakrishnan proclaimed a state of emergency giving the government the right to suspend civil rights, introduce censorship and detain persons without trial.

SESSION CALLED

A session of Parliament has been called for Nov. 8 and immediate approval of the proclamation is expected.

It was understood the government has requisitioned airliners to rush supplies to the border.

The defence ministry said there had been new fighting with heavy casualties during which Indian troops threw back two Chinese attacks on the eastern front.

Dozen Saved

SINGAPORE (Reuters)—An Australian frigate last night rescued 12 men drifting in a lifeboat in the China Sea after abandoning their ship, the 891-ton Panamanian - registered Kawi. Another lifeboat with 12 aboard was being sought after the ship was disabled by a storm.

Rear-View Incident

Pincher Gives In Driver Blows Up

BUENOS AIRES (UPI) — Argentines, like Italians, cannot resist the temptation to pinch when they see a pretty girl.

The victim was curvaceous Swedish automobile racer Ursula Wirth, co-driver of the winning Mercedes-Benz in a race—best for a last-minute tightening up of the wheel nuts of her car.

It was too much for an ardent mechanic who pinched the golden-haired Swedish miss.

The furious Ursula almost brained the man with her wrench.

A roar went up from the huge crowd and a policeman had to fire two shots in the air before quiet was restored.

Falling Wall Kills Six U.S. Firemen

NEW YORK (UPI)—A wall collapsed last night as firemen battled a five-alarm blaze in a soap factory, killing at least six firemen and injuring 15 others.

Deputy mayor Edward Cavanaugh, former New York fire commissioner, who rushed to the blaze, said others might be trapped in the rubble.

BODIES RECOVERED

An hour and a half after the department answered the first call at the Sefu Fat and Soap Co., five bodies had been recovered. One other body was still trapped and another fireman was still covered by rubble, but officials were not sure whether he was still alive.

The wall collapsed at the height of the blaze in the two-storey wooden structure.

LUMBER CARTED

Scores of city-owned trucks carted heavy lumber to the scene to try to shore up the rubble to speed the search.

Cavanaugh said fire officials were trying to count the men to determine if any others were buried, but they were spread over a wide area.

Fifteen men who were under the wall when it gave way were taken to Elmhurst General Hospital. Some were said to be in serious condition.

Three Miss Death

Khrushchev Sets Brief Limit

REDS HOLD SHIPS BACK AS CUBA BASES GROW

'Further Action' Hinted

WASHINGTON (AP)—The White House reported late Friday the Soviets are continuing rapid development of their Cuban missile sites.

"The activity at these sites apparently is directed at achieving a full operational capability as soon as possible," the statement said.

This new surveillance report was issued a few hours after a state department spokesman publicly underscored President Kennedy's Monday night statement that

FURTHER ACTION

"Should these offensive military preparations continue, thus increasing the threat to the hemisphere, further action will be justified."

There was tight official silence on what "further action" might be taken but tension mounted again after a brief respite that came when two U.S. destroyers halted and searched without incident a Soviet supply ship bound for Cuba.

CITES KENNEDY

The president's press secretary, Pierre Salinger, said in issuing the statement on the continuing missile buildup in Cuba that it should be taken in the context of Kennedy's Monday night radio-television broadcast.

In that speech the president announced the United States was calling in the United Nations for the prompt dismantling and withdrawal of all offensive weapons in Cuba. He said the purpose of the Cuban bases "can be none other than to provide a nuclear strike capability against the western hemisphere."

NO EVIDENCE

Friday's White House statement said "there is no evidence to date indicating that there is any intention to dismantle or discontinue work on these missile sites."

Representative Don Magnuson (Dem., Wash.) told reporters after a government briefing of west coast congressmen and governors in San Francisco that the Soviets were maintaining complete control over the work, even excluding Cubans from sensitive areas at the missile sites. Magnuson said the western briefing session also was

Nikita Cuts Risk

UNITED NATIONS (CP)—Soviet Premier Khrushchev told Acting Secretary-General U Thant Friday night he has ordered Soviet ships bound for Cuba to stay out of the interception area of what he termed U.S. pirate warships for a limited time.

And President Kennedy said that if the Soviet government abides by the United Nations chief's request the United States will do everything possible to avoid direct confrontation with Soviet ships in the "next few days to minimize the risk of any untoward incident."

IN TWO LETTERS

The assurances of Khrushchev and Kennedy were contained in [illegible] addressed by the secretary-general to them Thursday asking for their co-operation during his preliminary attempts to set up negotiations.

Khrushchev said the Soviet government has "ordered the masters of Soviet vessels bound for Cuba but not yet within the area of the American warships' piratical activities to stay out of

Berlin Traffic Checked

BERLIN (AP)—East German frontier guards subjected Berlin-bound truck traffic to unusual inspection Friday.

West Berlin police said drivers arriving here had been held up for from four to five hours on the western end of the highway link and compelled to unload cargoes for minute scrutiny.

This has not happened to truckers plying to Berlin for more than a year.

The tighter controls were imposed from about 6 a.m. until shortly before noon. After that, traffic was permitted through without inspection.

Lengthy Description

Have You Seen Him? If So, Contact RCMP

* * *

Drawings produced by RCMP investigators.

The RCMP asks you to stop for a moment, as you read this newspaper, and think carefully.

Have you seen this man?

In an appeal to the public last night, police asked anyone who has seen a man answering the following description, or resembling the man in this sketch, to get in touch with the RCMP immediately.

Here is the description:

He is between 20 and 30 years of age and stands from five feet, 11 inches to six feet tall. He is of medium build with blue or green eyes. He has light-brown curly or wavy hair and was clean-shaven when last seen.

PANTS TUCKED IN

At that time he was wearing a light tan windbreaker with trousers to match. A T-shirt was under the windbreaker. He wore 14-inch-high brown boots, unlaced, with his pants tucked into them.

He speaks without an accent.

When last seen, he was driving a new-looking, well-kept black car with three tall lights on each side—perhaps a 1961 Chevrolet. The dashboard was light blue and higher on the driver's side.

Latins On Anti-U.S. Spree

By UPI

Violent rioting and terror bombings erupted in more than half a dozen Latin American capitals in the aftermath of the U.S. arms blockade of Cuba.

The worst incident occurred Friday night in La Paz, Bolivia, when some 3,000 anti-American Bolivian labor union members staged a demonstration of support for Castro near the U.S. Embassy. At least two persons were reported killed and 18 wounded, police reported.

The disorders began when anti-Castro students stoned a pro-Castro radio station and then attacked a pro-Communist bookstore. The labor union retaliated with a march through the city's main street shouting anti-American slogans.

Caracas and Buenos Aires also were hit hard.

EXPOSITION HIT

During Thursday night at least 14 bombs exploded in front of American-owned business houses and government installations in Caracas, including the barracks of the presidential palace guards. Three persons were injured.

In Buenos Aires, a U.S. commerce department - sponsored exposition on the Alliance for Progress was the target of Castroite fire-bombers for the second straight night.

In Santo Domingo, Dominican Republic, political demonstrations of the most radical of the 28 political parties soon evolved into police-fighting mobs intent on storming the U.S. embassy.

TAKE REFUGE

In Managua, Nicaragua, the pro-Communist University Students for Peace organization took refuge in the autonomous University of Leon after an anti-American demonstration.

De Gaulle Urges Yes Vote Sunday

PARIS (Reuters) — President de Gaulle told the French people Friday they will decide Sunday whether he "shall continue in the role of chief-of-state."

De Gaulle made the statement in a final radio and television appeal for a "yes" vote in the Oct. 28 referendum on his plan to amend the constitution so future French presidents will be elected by popular vote rather than by an electoral college.

De Gaulle warned if he did not receive massive support but only "vague and doubtful" backing, he could feel it necessary to resign.

"The main issue," he said, "is whether I shall continue in the role of chief of state."

Two Guilty Of Bribery

VANCOUVER (CP) — Vancouver lawyer Rockmill Myers and William Robertson Friday were found guilty of bribing an RCMP officer to get protection for a proposed swank gambling casino at the Wigwam Inn seaside resort. Sentence will be pronounced Tuesday.

First Taste of Snow

Winter Hits Ontario

TORONTO (CP)—Ontario got a bitter taste of winter Friday. Temperatures wavering around 20 to 25 degrees, snowfalls up to 13 inches and drifts to 18 inches made life miserable for drivers and pedestrians.

Highways in southern Ontario were clogged, with several accidents attributed to the storms, and communications in many areas were disrupted.

HIGH DRIFTS

The Guelph area communities of Fergus and Arthur received 13 inches of snow with drifts reaching 18 inches. Twelve inches fell in Guelph in a 12-hour period, the heaviest October snowfall in the city since the Ontario Agricultural College there began keeping records in 1900.

A helicopter crashed near Acton, Ont., Friday when it got into difficulty in the storm and the pilot tried to set it down in a field. Its three occupants suffered minor injuries.

UP TO 15 INCHES

The department of highways in Owen Sound reported up to 15 inches of snow in the area during the last few days.

Six to eight inches of snow fell in the Hamilton area, snapping hundreds of tree limbs and short-circuiting power lines. A downtown fall of eight inches was an October record for the city.

Toronto had only a few snow flurries and occasional rainfall.

the interception area, as you recommend."

"But we have given this order in the hope that the other side will understand that such a situation, in which we keep vessels immobilized on the high seas, must be a purely temporary one; the period cannot under any circumstances be of long duration."

Kennedy, in his reply, said "this is a matter of great urgency in view of the fact that certain Soviet ships are still proceeding toward Cuba and the interception area."

WILL ACCEPT

Kennedy declared: "If the Soviet government accepts and abides by your request that Soviet ships already on their way to Cuba . . . stay away from the interception area' for the limited time required for preliminary discussion, you may be assured that this government will accept and abide that our vessels in the Caribbean 'do everything possible to avoid direct confrontation with Soviet ships in the next few days in order to minimize the risk of any untoward incident'."

In his appeal to Khrushchev, Thant warned that a confrontation of Soviet and U.S. vessels would not only aggravate the situation, but "would destroy any possibility of the discussions that I have suggested as a prelude to negotiations of a peaceful settlement."

While Thant didn't state any specific period in his letter to Khrushchev, he used the phrase "in the next few days" in his communication to Kennedy.

SENT DIRECT

Kennedy's reply was delivered to Thant by U.S. ambassador Adlai Stevenson. Khrushchev's apparently was sent direct from Moscow.

Talks were begun Friday by Thant with the U.S., Russia and Cuba on means of arranging formal negotiations for ending the crisis.

The replies were disclosed shortly after Stevenson flew to New York from Washington from urgent discussions with President Kennedy for a "satisfactory" talk with Thant.

Stevenson said he expected to see Thant again today.

Thant saw Soviet deputy foreign minister Valerian Zorin for half an hour at 1 p.m., Stevenson at 4:30 and Cuban ambassador Mario Garcia-Inchaustegui an hour later.

While Zorin was in Thant's office, ambassadors of Chile, Venezuela and Haiti waited in another room to explain the hemispheric position on the crisis.

told that an increase in the number of Russian submarines in the North Atlantic has been noted.

The anxiously awaited first move to board a Communist supply ship in the Caribbean quarantine zone went off peacefully enough, and pressure in that quarter dropped to some extent.

The 7,268-ton freighter Marucla, flying the Lebanese flag under charter to the Soviet government, was halted and boarded by a U.S. Navy party and then allowed to proceed when its cargo was found to include "no prohibited material."

TRUCK PARTS

The Marucla gave what the U.S. Navy called good co-operation.

It was found to be loaded with trucks, truck parts, sulphur and paper.

The naval blockade drama began Thursday afternoon when the U.S. destroyer John R. Pierce set out to intercept the Marucla, which was on a course from Riga, Latvia, to Cuba.

Officials said the Pierce made contact with the freighter about 7:30 p.m. PDT Thursday night and was joined after midnight by the destroyer Joseph P. Kennedy Jr., named for the president's oldest brother, a navy flyer killed in the Second World War.

The two destroyers trailed the freighter through the night on a south-southwest course at 12 knots. They were ordered to hail, halt and search the Marucla at daybreak.

Neat Acts

Magicians Baffle Large Audience

Wizardry in dozens of different forms was on display at Fellowship Hall on Balmoral Road last night.

People, rabbits and doves appeared and vanished, and a great variety of inanimate objects changed in color, size and shape, often in full view of the large audience.

Sponsored by the Men's Club of First United Church, Victoria and Seattle magicians kept the audience bewildered for more than two hours.

Particularly attractive acts came from Ernie and Gale Eckdahl, Owen Fowler and Bill Caldwell, all Victoria. Also maintaining the high standard were Art Curtis, assisted by Etta Rosso and Florence Simmons, Don and Tom Robinson, and Ernie and Audrey Crockford.

FROM SEATTLE

From Seattle for a neat act of magic and humor came Sid Brockman, George Buyken and Don Spreine, assisted by Fred Hawney.

Music for the evening was provided by organist Norma Wragg with Blaine Fairman as emcee and Lon Chaney as stage manager.

Optimists Tape City Bicycles

Up to 4,500 bicycles in Victoria will have been taped with reflective sheeting by Nov. 5 as a result of a two-week annual project by the Evening Optimist Club.

Thirty-seven schools in Victoria, Saanich and Esquimalt are covered in the drive, and Oak Bay Optimists hope to tape 1,500 strips onto bicycles in their district.

Your Good Health

Don't Let Fear Hold You Back From Checkup of Bad Cough

By JOSEPH MOLNER, MD

Dear Dr. Molner: My mother, 55, has a terrible, persistent cough and refuses to do anything about it. She once went to a doctor who prescribed some pills which stopped the cough, but she never bothered to renew the prescription. Is there something which might scare her enough so she would go to the doctor again?—D.O.

Perhaps—this is a curious quirk of human nature, but it happens over and over again—she doesn't go because she's already too scared.

Afraid of what? Afraid, for some reason, she may be told she has a dangerous disease! Years ago, people used to dread being told that they had tuberculosis. They still do—and put off finding out until cure becomes difficult or impossible.

If she thought about it, she would realize that, if she had some such perilous disease, it would have made itself inescapably known. Therefore let's suspect the cough is from some chronic condition or irritation that can be eased by medication.

The often-repeated violent pressure of coughing can stretch the lung tissues until they lose their elasticity. Then you have a condition known as emphysema which results in chronic shortness of breath.

Dear Dr. Molner: I read about 25 years ago about a blind baby having pig's eyes transplanted, but they would have to wait till the baby could talk to tell whether it could see. Do you know about the case? I'm interested because my niece is losing her eyesight.—Mrs. A.J.

That was all hopeful imagination, because eyes cannot be transplanted—not even human eyes. The only transplanting yet possible is of the cornea, the window or outer surface of the eyeball. This has restored sight to a good many people.

Dear Dr. Molner: My mother forbids me to shave my legs, and now since this new hair remover is on the market I wonder if you can tell me if it is safe to use.—C.F.

I don't know which "new hair remover" you mean, but I don't know of any that are harmful. Some can cause skin irritation. The old notion that shaving makes the hair grow heavier is a fiction.

Smoking Prods Glands

CLEVELAND (AP)—Smoking apparently jazzes up our stress glands, and that might help induce heart attacks, a medical team reported Friday.

Statistical studies find far more heart attacks among cigarette smokers than non-smokers. But a key question is exactly how the smoker's heart could be harmed.

ADRENAL EFFECT

Evidence that a bad effect could come through the adrenal or stress glands was described at the opening of the American Heart Association's 35th scientific sessions by Dr. Alfred Kershbaum and associates of Philadelphia General Hospital.

They theorized that nicotine from cigarettes provokes an increased release of adrenalin and nor-adrenalin from the adrenal glands and nerve endings; and that these hormones in turn cause the release of fatty substances into the blood which might help clog up arteries and thus in time lead to heart attacks.

New Land Scandal

* * * * * *

Florida Loss: $100,000,000

KANSAS CITY (AP)—The greatest land scandal in recent history is developing in the southwest of Florida, four officials of the National Association of Better Business Bureaus said Thursday.

Losses to investors, they said, will be more than $100,000,000, and the scandal will continue to grow.

* * *

The officials were Victor H. Nyborg, Rey, N.Y., association president Lowell P. Nicholas, general manager of the Des Moines bureau; Kenneth Barnard, president of the Chicago bureau, and Joe B. Birkhead, head of the Kansas City bureau.

"The Florida land promotions of the 1920s pale into insignificance when compared with what is happening now," Barnard said at a regional conference of the association. "When this thing breaks, and it is going to break, thousands and thousands of people are going to raise hell."

Barnard said remote, submarginal land is being sold to small-income persons, sight unseen, for retirement and investment purposes. Sales usually are on the instalment plan, he said.

"The people who are going to get hurt are the people who are retiring," Nyborg said. "Many already have had their life savings wiped out. Usually they don't have the money to travel and see the property they are buying. If they could see it they wouldn't touch it."

* * *

Nicholas said "you'd have to be 25 years old and a pioneer to settle on some of this land."

Cited as examples of fraudulent land sales were:

Land under six inches of water on the Texas coast.

Land almost inaccessible atop a mountain near El Paso, Tex.

Land advertised as having all utilities, when actually it is only a patch of wind-blown desert.

Land in Florida which is dry only half the year.

Finding the Brink

WHILE THE world waits and hopes for peaceful settlement of the Cuban crisis, the West must also ask why Khrushchev and Castro in haste and with puzzling lack of concealment started to arm Cuba with weapons that the United States could only regard as capable of being used for attack. The answer to this question surely is part of the answer to what Russia may do next, and to what course the Western powers should consequently take.

Were Soviet missile bases being rapidly installed and a bomber fleet built up with the idea of dealing the first blows in a nuclear conflict? That suggestion seems unlikely: for Cuba to attack the United States would be to demand annihilation of the island to no purpose, and to invite massive retaliation against Russia.

To threaten other Latin American states? To subject them, as some have speculated, to nuclear blackmail for Communist political gain? There seems to be little sense in that theory, either, for the same reason.

To deter the United States from invading Cuba, in the knowledge that American attack could bring almost instant death and destruction to major U.S. cities? This, if it were the reason, could partly explain the haste of the buildup of Cuban offensive capability, since American feeling in favor of invading Cuba has appeared to be growing. It could also give Khrushchev and Castro a small, semantic excuse to call the missiles and bombers defensive.

But it ignores the facts that Castro is the pawn and Khrushchev the master; that the world has been told and believes that the Soviet Union is able to send its nuclear bombs to any target without the need of nearby bases, and that Russia has said an attack on Cuba would be considered an attack on itself. What need of Khrushchev taking such a risk as placing nuclear missiles where they might be fired by misadventure?

To set up Cuba as a hand for Khrushchev to play in seeking a deal with the Western powers over Berlin? To test, as Prime Minister Macmillan suggests, the determination of the United States?

One of these two seems most likely to be the real reason—or perhaps both of them. Only the men in the Kremlin, plotting their moves and calculating the risks, and surely no more ready for holocaust than the West, know for certain.

Either reason, however, demands the firmness and cohesive strength and willingness to face dreadful hazard that the free world has shown in the last few days. And either holds promise that if the West is unremitting in standing up to him, it will be enough for Mr. Khrushchev to find where the brink is, without plunging the world over it.

His Eyes Opened

THE CUBAN crisis with the buildup of Communist arms foiled by the American naval blockade has overshadowed events along the disputed Sino-Indian frontiers. Here actual military aggression is in progress.

The Indian position has worsened. Its defending troops have been compelled to fall back in both the areas under attack, and a key administrative centre has been lost. Red Chinese forces have taken over large tracts of territory which short of all-out war may never be recovered, and probably not even then. India alone is no match for Communist China.

Prime Minister Nehru admits that India has been "out of touch with reality" in the border dispute. It is not India but Mr. Nehru's own myopic vision that has led him frequently to assail the West while seeming to absolve Communist actions from criticism. The scales should now be forcibly removed from his eyes.

The United Nations can bring no influence to bear on Red China because it keeps Peking out of the world organization, an exclusion sharply pointed up by the Sino-Indian border conflict. India has always recognized this and even while presently a victim of armed aggression by Red China it supports the entry of the Peking state.

The UN is not so potent that it can prevent the crisis manifest in either the Cuban or the Indian situation, but it does provide a safety valve open to nations at odds with one another. Even in the explosive Cuban issue it is functioning as a restraining factor. While delegates talk, argue or fume the guns are silent and there is always the prospect of negotiation and compromise.

Red China will not be easily placated and India may have lost some border areas for ever. But the thesis that as a member UN state China, as the Indian delegate puts it, "would be subject to the views and discipline of this body" cannot be gainsaid. The UN is more easily flouted from without than from within.

Even the largest of powers cannot ignore the weight of opinion expressed at the UN and must pay it some heed.

It's Not Fair?

IT HAS ITS amusing side, and CD officials must be enjoying a quiet I-told-you-so grin. Civil defence is too balkanized here but the agency itself has been ready with instructions about what to do in an emergency.

Apparently the Social Credit MLA for Saanich has not been paying much attention. Because of the Cuban situation he asks plaintively whether he should stock food, get some clothes ready, dig a trench, or what?

It's not fair, he complains. Of the federal government of course. He belongs to an opposition group.

He seems oblivious that some of his constituents might well indict him as their representative for not having long since acquainted himself with CD measures in their interest.

Cuba hasn't sent Victorians into a panic, even if suddenly Mr. Tisdalle finds cause for acute alarm. CD officials report only some quiet inquiries, and one or two persons have called to pick up various booklets on the subject.

Perhaps this is what the Saanich MLA should do to lessen his fears and make up for his past neglect. It will be a neglect common to most people, no doubt, but much less excusable in his case.

"Well I DON'T think our faithful little servant is good for another year and I DO see the sense in harnessing ourselves with a new one which would only eat up petrol."

Report from Ottawa

Innocents in Parliament

By ARTHUR BLAKELY

IN a speech delivered outside the Commons chamber, Social Credit Leader Robert Thompson passed judgment on the proceedings in this Parliament since it met for the first time on September 27.

It wasn't flattering to the institution or its members.

This is, of course, Mr. Thompson's first Parliament. He came here expecting great things. He was aware of the keen rivalry between political parties which can be transformed in a short space of time to bitter political warfare. But the election was over. And Mr. Thompson appears to have expected that, this being the case, the political parties would effect a truce so that Parliament could get down to the serious business of dealing with the problems of the nation.

But had this, in fact, happened? It had not!

"I have been ashamed of what has been carried on in Parliament since it opened," Mr. Thompson said.

★ ★ ★

And just what was it that had been carried on to give rise to Mr. Thompson's disappointment? Well, members of political parties had attempted to carry the late election campaign "into the hallowed chambers where the laws of our country are made." All parties? Well . . . no. Not quite. Mr. Thompson generously limited the guilt for this shameful activity to parties other than his own.

And he painted an appalling picture of the 30 Socred statesmen trying constantly to act in the best interests of the nation as a whole, while the politicians of the other parties all about them were indulging in political chicanery.

He singled out Opposition Leader Lester Pearson's Liberals for special mention. They bore, as he saw it, a special responsibility for the prevalence of "cheap politics" in a House of Commons where statesmanship was needed. And he made special reference to Liberal manoeuvres designed to show that they wanted an election at the earliest possible moment.

It might be argued by some that the House of Commons has at no time since Confederation lacked a strong political flavor. They might argue, further, that there is nothing surprising in finding politicians engaged in the practice of politics. But Mr. Thompson will not have it thus.

He is profoundly shocked by what he has seen and heard. And he cares not who knows it.

Politics, grand or petty, "cheapens democracy," he believes, and destroys the faith of Canadians in the parliamentary system.

A fellow-Albertan, the late Bob Edwards, of Calgary Eye Opener fame, once announced that he had found a means of distinguishing the politician from the statesman.

"I know what a statesman is," he is supposed to have said. (The authorities are dubious). "He is a dead politician. We need more statesmen."

But Mr. Thompson has little in common with the late Mr Edwards.

This is not the first suggestion that the first-term Social Crediters are naive country boys flabbergasted by the political subtleties of the House of Commons.

A short time ago, Dr. Guy Marcoux, the party's whip, tried to explain why members of his group had not adopted a certain course of action. He shrugged his shoulders eloquently.

"Unfortunately," he said with beguiling earnestness, "We're still green in politics. We aren't used to the artful tricks practiced in this House . . ."

Which is, certainly, one way of looking at it.

But to return to the scandalized Mr. Thompson.

He denied categorically that any "deal" of any kind had been made between the Social Crediters and the Conservatives. It would have been out of character, to say the least.

The Socreds had given their support to the government and would continue to do so for as long as the government continued to introduce sound, constructive legislation.

But the moment that the flow of such legislation ceased, the Socreds would be obliged to force an election. He ventured the opinion that the present state of affairs might last as long as two years.

But an election now? It would, Mr. Thompson said, be a national tragedy. Nothing less. It would bring a chain of minority governments. It would certainly cause three months of confusion which would undermine business confidence, hurt the economy and weaken the Canadian dollar.

Trade Barriers

Shared Aims

By B. T. RICHARDSON

THE United States and Canada have begun at last to march in step on a world drive to knock down barriers to trade, and no one can foresee what dramatic changes this may bring in the relations of the two countries. Both countries have surpluses of manpower and factory capacity.

They are working separately on the problem of maintaining maximum employment through domestic policies of easier credit, lower interest rates and measures to build up foreign exchange and gold reserves.

Both have potential capacity that could be geared to a new export business, as well as domestic needs, and could bring back thousands of factory workers to jobs.

★ ★ ★

President Kennedy has promptly accepted Prime Minister Diefenbaker's idea of a conference of free world nations to expand trade, with the words "perhaps we might join forces."

This has brought into focus in Washington the long debate on trade expansion that resulted in Congress giving the president unprecedented powers to go out and bargain for trade concessions.

Mr. Diefenbaker asked for a conference of Free World trading nations at the concluding stage of the recent Commonwealth conference in London. Mr. Kennedy has now agreed to give leadership in this project, in association with Canada.

Whether the most successful world trade conference would provide a solution to all Canada's economic problems resulting from the creation of a new giant trading system in Europe remains to be seen.

There is some doubt among the experts. It may be that Canada will have to consider going a good deal farther along the road to continental integration in some industries, or some groups of industries.

None of the politicians and few of the experts are prepared to breathe a word about the possibility at this stage. But no one can rule it out. The new course of American policy leads into many avenues that still seem far away.

North America's potential in creating an unprecedented prosperity on this continent can come into play only on a basis of full sharing. This is a subject that cannot be ignored much longer.

The framework for Mr. Diefenbaker's conference exists already in the General Agreement on Tariffs and Trade, located in Geneva with some 40 members. Canada's suggestion for a special conference in February or March advances the date by many months at which the Americans expected to get down to business.

Canada's special aim is to see that its traditional trade with Britain is not destroyed when Britain becomes the seventh member of the European Common Market group. Any concessions obtained by the United States would automatically be available to Canada and other countries.

But both Canada and the United States would have to give as well as receive concessions. The key question is whether the benefits would compensate for loss suffered in Canada's British trade now enjoying the Commonwealth preference.

For the first time in years, the United States and Canada are working together on mutual trade expansion. For both countries, this means serious adjustments in industries that are critically important in employing labor.

The United States has now demonstrated to the Europeans that it means business, and this will immediately improve Britain's chance of getting into the new trading and political system of Europe.

The Americans have devised a method of bailing out industries and workers who suffer from the readjustments. The Trade Expansion Act, 1962, gives authority for transitional relief in switching factories to new production and in retaining workers.

This formula may be precisely what Canada needs as well. The prospect of an arrangement with the United States has not yet been explored, but it cannot be ruled out.

The Packsack

Scarcely Credible

By GREGORY CLARK

EVER since the Americans broke loose, the English have nursed a lofty and often derisive attitude towards their former colonials. It dates a lot farther back than Charles Dicken's time. Read the letter and books of travellers in the new United States around 1800, and the amusement and barely concealed contempt of the English visitor is withering.

It was when the Americans took up the sport of chewing gum in a big, national way in the early years of the present century that the English were given the perfect target for their ridicule. The cartoons, the movies, even the serious drama had only to display an American with his jaws working to rouse the risibles of the English.

You will scarcely credit what I am about to state. In the current issues of Country Life and the Scottish Field, two of the very top-drawer publications of the British, devoted to the interests of the upperest of the upper crust, there are half-page advertisements for chewing gum!

"Certainly not!" the ads are headed. "Clearly no one in his senses would use chewing gum at a time and place like this," and the illustration shows a group of gentry seated about an obviously exclusive club in Pall Mall. But the ad goes on to extol the virtues of chewing gum. We may say, now, that the American Revolution has been accepted.

Co-operatives

Unfair Break

By DAVID GRENIER

"MAY divine Providence bless our deliberations and continue to aid us." So ends the president's statement prefacing the 1961 annual report of the Co-operative Federee de Quebec.

When the Co-operative Federee and its fellow members in the co-operative movement across Canada put their faith in Providence, they have good reason to. Because Providence—in the form of tax breaks—has been smiling on the co-ops these past few years.

With the help of tax advantages (including a three-year exemption from income tax for new co-ops, plus the ability to finance growth by retaining patronage dividends on a tax-free basis) the co-ops have grown into a giant sector of the economy, doing roughly $1.5 billion in sales each year.

They've expanded a long way from the original concept of co-ops as small rural businesses performing a service, paying patronage dividends to their members.

The big co-ops have long since penetrated urban areas. They deal not only with their members but also with the general public. They have diversified out of agricultural products into a number of different fields.

Here is how Cecil Lamont, president of North-West Line Elevators' Association, listed the activities of consumer co-ops when he addressed the Canadian Tax Foundation's annual conference, in Montreal last year:

"Their lines of activity include handling food, clothing, home furnishings, petroleum products, auto accessories, feed, fertilizer, spray materials, machinery and equipment, lumber and building materials, coal and wood, drugs and virtually all home and farm requirements.

"They operate saw-mills, flour mills, vegetable oil processing plants, chemical plants for the manufacture of weed killers, insect sprays and fertilizers, feed processing plants, meat and fish packing plants.

"They are fully integrated in the petroleum industry and engage in exploration, the acquisition of oil leases, ownership and operation of oil wells and operate a refinery, distribution and retail outlets."

The consumer co-ops deal with the public. Then there are also farmers' marketing co-ops which handle grain, fruits and dairy products.

This is a far cry from the original small, struggling rural co-operatives, as Mr. Lamont pointed out. (In fact, co-ops today possess many of the characteristics of corporations.) Yet while the corporation tax rate has gone from six per cent to 50-52 per cent, co-ops have still received breaks: their effective tax rate may be as low as 10 per cent.

This tax discrimination (because that is what it is) works in two ways.

It discriminates against companies that have to pay the full corporation tax rate. It also leads to situations where resources may be used uneconomically.

★ ★ ★

The issue that is being raised is whether tax breaks for co-ops are really in the public interest today. It's an inequity that the Carter Commission will have to consider.

Odd Spectacle

Spellbound

From the Toronto Daily Star

THERE is something wildly implausible in the spectacle of responsible Toronto businessmen going into raptures over Real Caouette.

Yet this is what happened when the deputy leader (or "co-leader," as they prefer to call him in Quebec) of the Social Credit party appeared before a Junior Board of Trade dinner to explain his political faith.

What apparently captured the hearts of the overflow audience—it was the largest in the history of the Junior Board—was Mr. Caouette's shrewd emphasis on "free enterprise" and "individual liberty."

He trotted out the peculiar Social Credit proposal to have the Bank of Canada give every man, woman and child in the land $100, to enable them to go on a huge and happy shopping spree. This, Mr. Caouette insisted, would immediately get the nation's industrial wheels turning at full speed.

Mr. Caouette did not bother to explain what would happen to Canada's credit rating—or to the value of the dollar—if we ever embarked on any such mad enterprise. All he wanted was votes: "You don't have to understand Social Credit to vote for it!"

The oddest thing about the businessmen who were enraptured by the spellbinder from Rouyn, Que., was that they would never consider applying his silly notions in their business — none would consider buying an automobile without being certain it would work; none would long remain in business without guarding his credit standing.

Equally strange was the fact that none of the bright young men rose to ask Mr. Caouette how he reconciled his pious respect for individual liberties with his admiration for some of the deeds of Hitler and Mussolini.

Mr. Caouette's ability to impress his audience is known. But it comes as a shock to find that an audience of literate and presumably hard-headed men could allow itself to be swayed by his odd and dangerous notions.

Kenya Emigrants

Where Now?

By GORDON MACLEAN
from Nairobi

WHERE does a white settler go when he leaves Kenya? This question is facing many Kenya settlers who are preparing to quit as the result of independence, although they have no real desire to go. The main trouble is that there are few places left in the world where there is the same unregimented life, wide horizons, a sense of the "pioneering spirit," and a plentiful supply of servants.

Some look south towards the Rhodesias and South Africa, and many have made their way there, with tractors, trailers and everything they could take with them. But others are taking a longer look as they ask: "How long will it be before there is racial trouble there too?" Some give South Africa 10 or 20 years, with luck; others give Southern Rhodesia five more years at the very outside.

For a land with wide open spaces and the same sort of like as Kenya, some settlers have chosen Australia — but one or two are back again, disillusioned with Eastern Australia, the "New Australians" and the tendency of some native-born Australians to cut people down to size. In fact, for the Australia-bound settler, the east is "out" and the fashionable destination is Western Australia where, or so those who have gone before write back, there are not only plenty of opportunities, open space and a carefree life, but "people to work for you."

This stipulation of servants ties down the emigrant settler considerably. It certainly rules out Britain for many who would otherwise have returned to the land of their birth to seek fresh opportunities. Southern Spain had a vogue a year or so ago, after agents had painted a glowing picture of life in the sun and servants. But those who investigated further reported that soaring property prices were putting the least pretentious villas out of reach.

Recently other settlers have investigated South America and the organizer of an organization calling itself the East African Pioneers' Society is trying to muster support for large-scale migration to Brazil. Fated, however, with serious currency control problems, he is now seeking the blessing of the African leaders he is running away from. He hopes to obtain government support to smooth the passage of the Brazil-bound immigrants on the grounds that their departure would be a good thing for Kenya, making more land available for Africans.

But Africans are finding there is, in fact, plenty of land available. Altogether some £25 million is scheduled for the purchases of European farms over the next five years, the government selling them to Africans on a 30-year repayment period.

Unlike white civil servants who will collect between £5,000 and £10,000 each when their posts are "Africanized," farmers will get nothing in compensation. All they can expect is the value of their property, as calculated by stony-hearted government buyers.

★ ★ ★

A number of European farms have already been abandoned, mostly by owners who evaded income tax before things were tightened up last year.

Abandoning a farm in the Kenya Highlands is an offence, so in order to keep within the law some owners have left farms "temporarily" in the care of neighbors. Some Europeans are still buying up land.

These are the "stayers," about whom very little has been heard up to now. For the most part they are hard-working men, with little time for airing their views or making speeches. Their numbers are larger than most people, even in Kenya, realize, and the government has sufficient confidence in their intention of "sticking it out" that two large farming districts — Nakuru and Kitale — are not to be opened up to small-scale African settlement for the present. In this way a nucleus of the European-type farming economy, that is farms of larger units, will be preserved at least until the new black settlers on the various schemes have found their feet and start producing the crops necessary to maintain Kenya's economy, which is almost wholly dependent upon agriculture.

Bad Cheque, Long Record

A man who has spent most of the past 10 years in jail was sentenced to a further term of two years in city police court yesterday.

Christopher Kiteley, 832 North Park, admitted passing a bad cheque made out for $120.

Det. Angus Munro told Magistrate William Ostler that Kiteley bought a $17 sweater with the cheque and received $103 in change.

"The cheque has a forged 'certified' stamp on it," Det. Munro said. "I don't know how that was placed there."

City prosecutor Angus Smith said Kiteley has a record of previous convictions dating back to 1929.

"You have been in jail most of your adult life," Mr. Ostler told Kiteley. "You haven't spent much time out of jail in the past 10 years, have you?"

★ ★ ★

A 20-year-old youth who admitted having obtained goods on credit from the T. Eaton Co. under a false name was sentenced to six months jail.

He was Stanley John Bullivant, no fixed address. In passing sentence, Mr. Ostler told Bullivant:

"Unfortunately you do not seem to have decided to change your ways. I hope you will do that before you ruin your life."

★ ★ ★

A warrant was issued for the arrest of a man convicted of bootlegging liquor from the office of a city cab company when the defendant yesterday failed to appear for sentence.

Mr. Smith told Magistrate Ostler he had received a letter signed with the name of the defendant — Jack Steadman, 1016 Collinson — but as Steadman failed to appear, Mr. Smith applied for, and obtained, the bench warrant for his arrest.

"He was given special consideration and apparently he has not appreciated it," Mr. Ostler commented.

Two firms and two persons were fined a total of $125 on charge of failing to file income tax returns when demanded. Two charges were against Sweetheart Florists Ltd., 1801 Fort, and $25 fines were imposed on each charge.

Fined $25 on similar charges were S. J. Coles and Sons, Sheet Metal Ltd., 1205 Broad; Charles Brousson, 806 Cook, and Fredrick F. Fitch, 148 East Burnside.

Veterans Back Kennedy Stand

The 114 Veterans' Guard Association moved the resolution be sent to President Kennedy, Prime Minister Diefenbaker and the provincial and the dominion legion commands.

Three Choices In Quebec Vote

QUEBEC (CP) — Political parties fighting in Quebec's Nov. 14 general election are giving voters three different choices on the main issue of publicly-owned electric power.

The Liberals are saying do it now; the Union Nationale, let's decide next year in a referendum; and the newly - formed Action Provinciale, a definite no.

CLEAR MANDATE

The Liberals of Premier Jean Lesage, in power since June, 1960, say they will regard re-election as a clear mandate to expropriate 11 of the province's privately-owned power companies.

The Union Nationale, under new leader Daniel Johnson chosen 13 months ago, hasn't committed itself on the issue and wants to hold a referendum on it next year. He says he tends to believe the majority appears to want expropriation.

THIRD PARTY

A third party founded a few weeks ago — L'Action Provinciale — has announced it will have 46 candidates who will campaign against expropriation.

However, because of its last-minute appearance on the scene and the lack of a prominent full-time leader, most political observers generally discount it as a major force in the election.

IN OPPOSITION

Its acting leader, Hertel La Roque, said his party will remain "an opposition party."

Standing at dissolution of the legislature last September was Liberals 54, Union Nationale 40, and Independent one.

U.K. Auto Workers Vote to End Strike

LONDON (AP)—A mass meeting of auto workers voted Friday to end a strike which began nine days ago at the British Ford Motor plant in Dagenham.

The walkout, called to protest the firing of a shop steward accused by the company of holding a union meeting during working hours, affected 7,500 of the plant's 32,000 workers.

'Send Service Votes Direct to District'

ST. JOHN'S, Nfld. (CP)—Mr. Justice H. A. Winter says he can "see no good reason why" armed services votes can't be sent to the districts which they affect, rather than to four voting areas as is done now.

"It is plain that a member of the armed forces stands in a position different from that of the stay-at-home civilian. different treatment is therefore required, but need not be carried as far as it is," Mr. Winter said in a Newfoundland Supreme Court judgment.

ELECTION VOID

The judgment, concurring with Chief Justice R. S. Furlong, ruled void the June 18 federal election in St. John's West because of irregularities in the service vote.

The two justices handed down judgments after hearing a petition from former solicitor-general William Browne, who lost the federal election in St. John's West to Liberal Richard Cashin by 24 votes.

TWO ENVELOPES

Mr. Justice Winter outlined that when a serviceman voted in the June 18 election he wrote in the name of his candidate on a ballot, sealing it in a plain envelope, then put it inside a second envelope which was also sealed.

The envelopes were mailed to one of four districts, depending on where the serviceman was stationed. They were sorted by ridings and counted after the civilian voting.

ELABORATE SETUP

Mr. Justice Winter said "it may be asked whether the elaborate setup" is necessary in this age of air mail when an envelope can reach Canada from almost any place in the world in little more than a week.

Hit-Run Driver Loses Licence

A driver who admitted failing to remain at the scene of a fatal accident yesterday was fined $500 and had his licence suspended for three years by Magistrate William Ostler in city police court.

"There could hardly be a more serious case under this section," Mr. Ostler told Robert J. Brotherston, 1577 McRae.

"I am sure I need scarcely tell you this was a cowardly and wicked thing that you did . . . In such circumstances, the difference between life and death might well be whether the driver stops and renders assistance."

Brotherston was charged following an accident on Douglas Street Oct. 10 when R. G. Wilson was killed by a car which failed to stop after colliding with the man.

When he was first charged, Brotherston denied two charges—impaired driving and failing to remain at the scene.

Tuesday he pleaded guilty to the hit-run charge, and city prosecutor Angus Smith offered no evidence on the charge of impaired driving. The charge was dismissed.

Final Details

Sherwood Playground Topic for Meetings

Final details of the scheme to build a Sherwood Forest project on Gorge Road will be discussed at meetings between developers and city planners.

The advisory planning commission told city council Thursday it "looked with favor on the proposal" but wanted to know more about it before making a final recommendation.

Council agreed to do everything in its power to speed final approval of the development while giving it careful study.

NEW APARTMENT

City council approved a recommendation from advisory planning commission for creation of a new garden apartment site at Quadra and Topaz. The commission said such a development would provide "a higher and better use" of the property with 60 units accommodating about 180 persons.

Recommendations to approve rezoning for establishment of new private hospitals at Balmoral and Chambers, and in the 1,800-block Fort Street, were also approved by council.

IN NO HURRY

Aldermen agreed the city should not be in any hurry to seeking rezoning of the four-acre site of the former Mountain View home for men from Oak Bay. It has been suggested as being suitable for high rise development.

City council will soon begin detailed study of new regulations covering garden apartments and transient accommodation.

LETTERS to the Editor

To be considered for publication in whole or in part letters must be on subjects of general interest, not more than 300 words in length, and, if signed with a pen-name must be accompanied by the writer's name and address.

The current excitement regarding Cuba demonstrates again that relations between states are still completely anarchic, and that the rule of law stops short at national frontiers.

Any state—Cuba, for example, or Canada — has a perfect legal right to set up missile bases and to equip them with nuclear warheads. Every nation has the right to order its defences exactly as it sees fit—provided it can "get away with it."

Similarly every state has the undoubted right to declare war on another nation, to launch an attack without declaring war, to impose a blockade or quarantine, it can commit any hostile act it chooses — provided it can "get away with it."

Only two questions determine international policy: "Will it serve our interests?" and "Can we get away with it?"

It is strange that, although the rule of force has brought repeated disaster to nations invoking it, and great misery to nations against which it has been invoked, there has been little genuine effort to substitute the rule of law for the rule of force. Elaborate organizations—the League of Nations and the United Nations Organization—have been set up, it is true. Invariably, however, the nations have denied to these organizations both the right to define international law and the power to enforce it, and have chosen instead to perpetuate the rule of force.

Possibly, if mankind survives the present crisis, it may not reject the next opportunity to establish the rule of law.

C. S. BURCHILL,
President, Victoria Branch, World Federalists of Canada.

More Economic Use

Merriman's "Outdoors" of Oct. 17 comments on Mr. Hendry's part one editorial in Victoria Plywood's Panel" concerning multiple park use. I disagree with some of his statements.

Hendry did not advocate alienation of park lands, but more economic use of a public asset through planned cropping of mature timber.

Merriman says Victoria Plywood has whetted its appetite on park timber. We feel we have performed a public service in salvaging 1,500 acres of dead timber made available through public auction.

Re Leechtown access: these are private lands, not Crown lands or public tree-farm lands; like a Saanich farmer isn't it fair that we have control of who hunts or camps on our land?

Hendry feels that access roads resulting from controlled logging in parks would facilitate park use by the public. Perhaps now that sustained yield logging in our Sooke Lake Watershed has made these public lands accessible this could be an area for more public use. In many southern centres watershed areas are used as well for fishing, swimming, boating, hunting, camping, true multiple use.

TORONTO (CP) — The stock market inched ahead during the lightest trading since early August.

Alberta Gas, Walker - Gooderham, Canadian Oil, Interprovincial Pipe Line and Consumers' Gas all gained in a ⅛ to ⅜ range.

Imperial Shines

MONTREAL (CP) — Stocks moved slightly upward.

Highest gainers were Imperial Oil, up 1¼ to 43¼ and Central Del Rio, up 40 cents to $8.40.

Other gainers were Hudson Bay Company, up ¼ to 10¼, Dominion Bridge, up ⅛ to 16, Power Corp. up ½ to 71 and Noranda, up ⅛ to 27.

Among losers, Dominion Stores fell ⅛ to 11½, Aluminium ½ to 21, International Nickel ¾ to 58⅝, and B.C. Power ⅝ to 18.

Steels Depressed

NEW YORK (AP)—Steels declined as stock market prices fell off irregularly.

The dominant factor was Bethlehem Steel's dividend cut, announced after the close of the previous session. Bethlehem was under heavy selling pressure from the start and wound up as the most active stock, off 2⅜ at 28¼ on 77,000 shares.

Gossip in the Street was that U.S. Steel would cut its dividend when it reports on third quarter results next Tuesday.

The corporate news, however, was not all bearish. Du Pont advanced 2⅛ following publication of a forecast that the company's profits, exclusive of dividends on General Motors stock it still owns, would be up 20 per cent or more. Goodyear gained 1⅛ on news it had raised tire prices. Goodrich advanced 1⅜ while other rubber stocks eased.

British Columbia this year will rank as Canada's fastest-growing oil province. Estimates are the Western Pacific Products line this month will handle over 40,000 barrels a day, whereas a year ago production was under the 6,000 barrels-a-day level.

With its captive provincial refinery market, estimated to be using over 80,000 barrels a day, the outlook for British Columbia's oil industry is extremely bright. It can double its present production before it has to look outside the province for new markets.

This situation does not apply in other western provinces, and particularly Alberta, where the domestic market is already 100 per cent absorbed, and any further increases in demand must come from Ontario and from the export market.

In addition, as the British Columbia oil production expands, it will decrease the already dwindling amount of prairie crude now being used in the Vancouver refineries.

The Toronto-Dominion Bank in a review of the Canadian oil industry, written last June and already obsolete in parts, says the market for Alberta crude after 1963 will have a short-term ceiling, while British Columbia crude production continues on the rise.

LOSS OF CONTROL

The loss of the last big Canadian-owned oil company to foreign control now seems a fait accompli.

Shell Investments Ltd., U.S., U.K. and Dutch owned, announces it has acquired 70 per cent of the common shares of Canadian Oil Companies under its recent offer.

Most of the shareholders—60 per cent—who have turned in their share have accepted the option to take $32.50 in cash and to accept one 5⅛ per cent cumulative preference share of $20 par of Shell Investments Ltd.

A minority chose to accept $52.50 cash plus a warrant to purchase one share of Shell B at $20 for each four warrants held.

CHRYSLER

Chrysler Corporation turned a deficit of a year ago into a profit in the third quarter of 1962. The net earnings for the three months to Sept. 30, 1962 were $3,200,000 compared with a loss of $4,800,000 in the corresponding quarter of 1961.

Nine months earnings of $15,100,000 ($1.67 a share) compare with a loss of $20,500,000 ($2.28 a share) a year ago.

Crisis Upsets Bond Market

Canadian bond prices faltered this week for the first time in nearly a month.

Day-to-day money was available at four per cent early in the week but later at 4¼ per cent.

Short and medium term bond prices showed declines of up to 75 cents reflecting dealer inventory reductions as a result of uncertain international conditions.

Prices on the long-term market were also down. The Canada 4½-per-cent 1983 issue closed at 91⅝ down ⅝, and the Canada 5½-per-cent 1980 issue at 101½, down 1⅜.

Provincial and corporate issues moved downward in a similar pattern. The recent Manitoba Telephone 5½-per-cent 1983 issue closed at 99, down ⅞, while the Province of Saskatchewan 5½-per-cent 1982 issue showed a decline of ¾ at 98½.

Russia Stops Trips For West Diplomats

MOSCOW (AP) — While the Kremlin pumped a stream of anti - American propaganda across Russia, the foreign ministry spurned one more U.S. official note Friday on the American naval quarantine of Cuba.

Although correct personally in dealings with Americans here, Soviet officials were colder in their diplomatic actions. In addition to rejecting the third official American document on the Cuban crisis Soviet officials apparently imposed restrictions on travel outside Moscow by Western diplomats.

What the foreign ministry sent back to the U.S. embassy was an addition to a note previously returned concerning control orders governing the navy quarantine of offensive weapons to Cuba. The new note put rocket fuel on the list of material falling under the ban. The first Russian turn-back was President Kennedy's proclamation of the naval quarantine.

When a note is sent back in this manner it amounts to a rejection. But the diplomatic atmosphere in which it was done appeared relaxed.

American officials, reporting the restrictions on movements of Western diplomats in the Soviet Union, said U.S. officials who were in Tbilisi, Leningrad and Kiev were ordered to return to Moscow. However, an embassy officer accompanying the American Robert Shaw Chorale was allowed to continue the tour.

The travel order apparently was issued Tuesday but embassies said they were at a loss for the reason. One diplomat said his order to return to Moscow listed "temporary reasons."

In Washington, officials said the U.S. administration was considering what retaliatory measures to take on any travel restrictions.

Nowlan Report:

More Revenue, Higher Spending

OTTAWA (CP)—The government has reached the half-way point in its current fiscal year with a $67,000,000 budgetary deficit, Finance Minister Nowlan reported Friday night.

His monthly treasury statement showed both revenues and expenditures for the April-September period higher than in the first half of last 1961-62 fiscal year.

DEFICIT DOWN

Last Monday Mr. Nowlan forecast a $570,000,000 deficit for the current year ending March 31, compared to last year's $791,000,000. However, expenditures tend to pile up toward the end of each year.

Six - month expenditures to Sept. 30 totalled $2,912,200,000, up $18,200,000 from a year earlier despite the government's economy campaign and a $:52,-000,000 drop in payments to provinces reflecting the ending of the former tax-rental arrangement.

REVENUES HIGHER

Six-month revenues, at $2,-845,200,000, were $110,200,000 higher than a year ago, mainly on the strength of a $72,700,000 gain in customs import duties resulting from higher imports and the special import surcharges levied June 24.

Almost all of the six-month budgetary deficit was incurred in September, which produced a $61,400,000 deficit.

NDP Member Praises Dr. Kelsey

OTTAWA (UPI)—Dr. Frances Kelsey of the U.S. Food and Drug Administration was praised in the House of Commons Friday for successfully withholding thalidomide from the U.S. market.

Colin Cameron (NDP—Nanaimo-Cowichan-The Islands) noted that Dr. Kelsey's efforts had been recognized by President Kennedy, and said, "it is only appropriate that we in this House should record our pride in the outstanding services to our American neighbors of one who is a native daughter of Canada." Dr. Kelsey was born at Cobble Hill, in Mr. Cameron's riding.

MP Renews Divorce Battle

OTTAWA (UPI) — A persistent NDP MP again urged extension of Canada's grounds for divorce Friday to lift the country from a 19th-century outlook.

And, although the private bill was shelved, Arnold Peters (NDP—Temiskaming) held the rapt attention of a group of visiting Girl Guides.

"Most of our provinces," he said, "still carry the laws that were in effect in Great Britain before Confederation in 1867."

Prisoner Negotiations

Cuba Still Talking

HAVANA (AP)—The Castro government was reported Friday to be keeping open negotiations for the release of 1,113 prisoners captured in last year's rebel invasion of Cuba. There was anxiety, however, that the U.S. arms blockade against Cuba could affect the negotiations.

Officials of the rescue committee in Cuba sent a report to James B. Donovan, New York lawyer negotiating with Premier Castro, that as far as they knew the negotiations have not been affected.

Alvaro Sanchez, one of the committee's Cuban negotiators, sent Donovan a message saying "no final efforts must be spared to complete the negotiations."

Sanchez' report added that medicine, baby foods and medical equipment accepted by the Castro government in lieu of cash for freeing the prisoners are exempt from the U.S. blockade.

Mrs. Berta Barreto de los Haros, official co-ordinator of the rescue committee, said tentative arrangements would be made to see if an airline, other than Pan American, would be willing to ferry out the prisoners and fly in the supplies. She said she was "sure" that as soon as the supplies arrived in Cuba the prisoners would go free.

She said big U.S. pharmaceutical companies are studying the medical lists submitted by the Cuban government. She said some of these medicines are not manufactured in the United States at present.

In New York, Donovan noted that Sanchez had been permitted to visit the prisoners despite the international crisis over Cuba.

"This, of course, is very heartening," Donovan told reporters. However, "there is no question that the quarantining of Cuba has aggravated tensions and has not helped my mission."

There Is No Law —Judge

CORNER BROOK, Nfld. (CP) —Mr. Justice Sir Brian Dunfield of the Newfoundland Supreme Court Thursday labelled as "silly" the view that the U.S. arms quarantine of Cuba is contrary to international law.

"There is no such thing as international law," the 73-year-old jurist told a service club. "The ambitious volumes" that would constitute such a law are nothing more than a history of what has been done and "a bunch of wishful thinking on what should be done in the future."

He said when people refer to international law they are referring to international history and customs.

JUST AS WELL? Noting what is happening in the Western Hockey League, it may have been just as well that the Victoria application for re-admission was rejected. With an arena seating only 5,000 and the need to rekindle hockey interest here it is doubtful whether or not we could have afforded it for more than two seasons.

Operational costs, which go up each year as a matter of course, have practically sky-rocketed for some clubs this season—and that means they will sky-rocket for other clubs, too, if they are to remain competitive.

Portland Buckaroos, who draw about 200,000 fans a season, need that many again to show a profit. Not only were there costly acquisitions but what the Buckaroos are paying out in salaries this season can not be too far away from what it cost to operate a club when the Cougars were part of the WHL.

It's the same at Los Angeles, where the Blades have acquired such expensive performers as goalkeeper Jack McCartan, centre Fleming Mackell and winger Leo LaBine, who is reported to have said he is getting more money this season than for any season he played in the NHL. It is reasonable to suspect that the operational costs at both Los Angeles and Portland will be about $200,000, perhaps even more.

At $200,000, the Cougars would have to draw a capacity house for each of their 35 home games to make money and while it may not have cost the Victoria club that much this season, it inevitably follows that you have to meet the competition of bigger centres with bigger arenas by acquiring more-expensive playing talent in order to remain competitive. Not meeting the competition can be just as costly as meeting it, and sooner or later, either way, small cities with small arenas are forced out.

There is already talk that Calgary and Edmonton, where crowds have not been good, may be out of the WHL by next season and that the Spokane franchise will be moved to Long Beach unless there is excellent fan support. None of this may happen but the pinch is on and with the odds all weighted in favor of a big loss over a small profit it is only a matter of time for the weaker, Victoria's stay would probably have been short and, once again, expensive.

BESOM AND STANE: Manager Joe Iannarelli is understandably pleased with increase in curling activity at Esquimalt Municipal Centre, now in its second season. He reports an increase of six leagues to 17 and of 268 curlers to 776 from last season. . . . Alberni Valley curlers will be forced to make a delayed start this season, the new municipal centre which includes six sheets of curling ice not likely to be ready before Christmas. Annual men's bonspiel is again set for February . . the area's newest curling facility, Allen's Curling Rink, is set for its official opening tomorrow, when the 48-rink Sunday Commercial League gets started with draws at 10 a.m., noon and 2, 4, 6 and 8 p.m. . . . Chilliwack Curling Club opened a new six sheets last week, on the site of the dismantled old building, six sheets of curling ice are included in the new Coquitlam and District Sports Centre. Revelstoke has a new four-sheeter, the Heather Curling Club in Whalley is planning eight sheets and Hollyburn Country Club in Vancouver will add facilities for six sheets of curling ice for next season to the skating rink constructed this year.

* * *

OFF THE GRID: It doesn't seem to make sense but some football people believe Calgary Stampeders are a more dangerous club without fullback Earl Lunsford and Lovell Coleman in the offensive lineup. Coach Dave Skrien of the B.C. Lions says: "They are more versatile with Coleman. We can't set our defences as we do for Lunsford." Calgary coach Bobby Dobbs said "No comment" when asked for his opinion. . . . "They'll go to the Grey Cup now, I can't see anybody in this league stopping them," Jim Champion, assistant-coach of the Lions, said after his club had lost to the Stampeders last Saturday . . . and if fullback Don Clark is healthy enough to take up where he left off last season, Montreal Alouettes are likely to be the Eastern club in the Grey Cup final. With Clark and George Dixon healthy, they would have the finest one-two running punch in Canadian football. . . . Touchdown magazine picked them this way in selecting a Western Conference all-star club for the first half of the season—Kenny Ploen as quarterback in a backfield which also included Leo Lewis of Winnipeg, Earl Lunsford of Calgary, Ray Purdin of Saskatchewan and Mack Burton of B.C. Lions, Ernie Pitts of Winnipeg and Tommy-Joe Coffey of Edmonton as ends, Frank Rigney of Winnipeg and Lonnie Dennis of the Lions as tackles and Tony Pajaczkowski of Calgary and Len Thorson of Winnipeg as guards . . . on defence it was end Herb Gray, tackle Roger Savoie, linebackers Dave Burkholder and Gordie Rowland and halfback Norm Rauhaus of Winnipeg, end Garner Eckstran and middle-guard Ron Achison of Saskatchewan, tackle Don Luzzi, linebacker Wayne Harris and halfback Harvey Wylie of Calgary, halfback Oscar Krueger of Edmonton and linebacker Tom Brown of the Lions. . . . Juvenile football champions of Vancouver Island, almost certainly either Victoria Vampire or Nanaimo Redmen, will meet the Manitoba champions here on Friday night, Nov. 30, in the third annual "Little Grey Cup" game . . . and one hears that the Lions are interested in the future possibilities of Daryl Thom, 16-year-old fullback, John Porter, 16-year-old alternate quarterback and end, and Neil Worboys, 18-year-old halfback, who play for Vampires. Scholarships at a U.S. university will likely be the reward for any of the three if interest continues.

Lions, Argos Face Quick Fate Unless Both Win at Weekend

Only Edmonton's idle Eskimos, already out of things, have nothing at stake in the most important weekend of the Canadian Football League season.

All other eight clubs are in action today and tomorrow in four games, and results are vital to all of them, particularly B.C. Lions in the Western Conference and Toronto Argonauts of the Eastern Conference.

Defeat will eliminate both the Lions and Argos, and both are in the position where victory won't necessarily mean extension of their playoff chances.

Big game for provincial football fans is at Vancouver's Empire Stadium, where B.C. Lions have to make it three in a row over Winnipeg Blue Bombers to stay alive. At the same time, the Lions have to hope that Calgary Stampeders can either tie or defeat Saskatchewan Roughriders.

Lions go into their big test minus only Mack Burton, their sensational rookie pass-catcher who was put out of action for the season in Edmonton on Sept. 29. But several Lions will be nursing various hurts. Halfback Sonny Homer has tender ribs, end Pat Claridge and halfback Tom Larscheid will play despite broken noses suffered last Saturday in Calgary and defensive-half Bob Schloredt is not expected to be able to perform his punting duties.

LIONS WORRIED

Schloredt's bad knee is of some concern to the Lions, who have been badly out-punted since the big import was injured. Canadian-quarterback Earl Keeley is expected to handle the job.

Lions will also introduce a rookie tackle into the lineup. Getting his first starting chance is Bill Frank, a 240-pounder recently signed from the University of Colorado.

AT TACKLE

Frank, who became available this season when he failed to meet scholastic requirements, will start at offensive tackle alongside guard Tom Hinton. Frank replaces Willie Taylor.

"Frank is very big and very strong," coach Dave Skrien says. "He's looked so good in workout we have to give him his chance. I think he will beef up our blocking on the left side."

In another change, the Lions have replaced veteran Emery Barnes with Greg Findlay, a rookie from Nanaimo.

Bombers, who have won two in a row since losing the lead and need a win tonight to clinch first place, Coach Bud Grant says he will start Kenny Ploen at quarterback and will have a club at near peak strength. Only regular likely to be missing is end Farrell Funston.

LUNSFORD BACK?

At Calgary, Stampeders will have to go without Don Luzzi, all-star tackle, and may have to play without guard Ernie Danjean and end Phil Lohman. They will use Willie Hector, a recent addition from Los Angeles Rams who can play defensive end or tackle. There is also a chance the Stampeders will use fullback Earl Lunsford.

Roughriders, who have been susceptible to the long pass this season, will have to start without defensive halfbacks Jim Copeland and Bill Miller but may be able to play fullback Clair Branch.

LAST GAME

One point behind the Bombers, Stampeders need a win to retain any chance of a first-place finish. This is their last scheduled game of the season while Bombers play Eskimos at Edmonton a week from today in addition to their chance tonight against Lions.

In the east today, Hamilton Tiger-Cats play Alouettes at Montreal in a game which could see Montreal clinch a playoff spot or Tiger-Cats practically clinch first place.

OUT OF REACH

Alouettes are three points ahead of the fourth-place Argos, who play at home against Ottawa Rough Riders tomorrow, and can put third place out of reach of the Toronto club by winning.

Two points ahead of Rough Riders, Hamilton can clinch first place if Ottawa loses, otherwise they will have to do it against the Riders a week from tomorrow.

Tonight's game between B.C. Lions and Winnipeg will be broadcast over radio stations CKWX (980) and CKNW (1130) starting at 8:30. Delayed telecast will be shown over Channel 8 at 12 noon tomorrow.

Post-Olympic Use Stressed For Sports Centre in Banff

(Construction of facilities for the 1968 Winter Olympic Games, if they are won by Banff, will be a major federal undertaking. This last half of a two-part series outlines the situation.)

By BOB TRIMBEE

CALGARY (CP)—Alberta and the federal government have agreed to support the Canadian Olympic Development Association in its preparatory for the 1968 Winter Games bid.

Ed Davis, CODA president, said the federal government will have to assume responsibility for principal costs of the physical structures within Banff National Park. The province has agreed to take on the responsibility of solving communication problems, with the cost of building such facilities to be negotiated.

The Banff School of Fine Arts has agreed to rearrange the timing of its expansion plans so that it will be able to accommodate the 2,000 athletes, officials and coaches during the games.

CODA has all but completed laying out the various courses for skiing and bobsled events and has had them appraised by Prof. Friedl Wolfgang of Innsbruk, secretary-general of the 1961 games and chairman of the powerful International Ski Federation (FIS).

Prof. Wolfgang suggested only one minor change in the courses—as a safety measure—during a visit here in late August.

SUPPORTS BANFF

"The suggestions for use of facilities after the games — to promote sports in Canada as a national training centre—is just what the IOC wants," he said. "They do not want to award the games to a country merely as a financial proposition or as a means of increasing tourism.

"They must know beforehand what will be done with the facilities after the games. That is very important.

"You can see that these (CODA) people started early to organize. They took the time to find out what is required and have set out to do the job. Nothing major needs to be altered in their plans, I believe. . . . I personally hope Banff will get the games."

Cost of staging the games has been estimated at $10,000,000.

The major construction involves an Olympic centre, communication facilities, building of a 10,000-seat arena, an outdoor practice rink and speedskating oval, additional facilities to accommodate spectators at Banff and organizing transportation to and from Banff by rail and road for spectators living outside the park.

COULD MAKE PROFIT

Hans Maclej, CODA vice-president and a one-time semi-pro soccer player in Germany, said the Olympic facilities could easily be converted into a Canadian sports training centre after the games. Canadian teams could be brought to Banff for concentrated training. Facilities could be built in such a manner that they could be used for either winter or summer sports.

He believed a profit could be realized from the games and would provide the COA with enough money to finance training programs and send Canadian teams to international games outside Canada for a number of years.

On-site accommodation for spectators would have to be built by private capital and be governed by long-range development plans for the park adopted by the federal government, said Davis. Several investors were waiting for a decision on this matter.

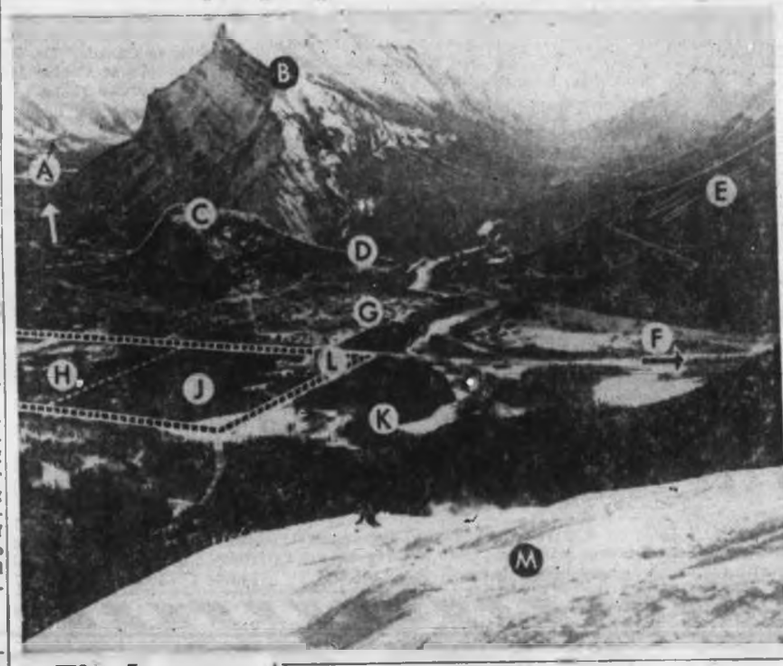

Davis said the cost of staging the games will come equally from government and private sources. He would not detail the amounts. CODA now is in the midst of launching a campaign for funds from private sources.

NEVER HELD HERE

In its bid to the International Olympic Committee CODA will stress many sympathetic points—Canada has never had the games, it is an original member of International Ski Federation, Banff's bid to the IOC, the games would provide a fitting climax to Canada's centennial celebrations and would be correlated with a broad cultural program being planned for Calgary for 1968.

Much planning still has to be done before Mayor Harry Hays of Calgary formally presents Banff's bid to the IOC.

Navy Duo Sinks Soldiers

A sparkling performance by linemates Wayne McLeod and Ken Maxwell sparked Navy to a 3-2 victory over Army in the second half of an Esquimalt Hockey League doubleheader last night at the Sports Centre. Pontiac Chiefs defeated University, 5-4, in the other game.

McLeod scored four goals for the Sailors and Maxwell assisted on all five of the RCN counters. Denny Beaudin scored the fifth Navy goal.

Bob McNab scored both Army goals.

Two goals by Pontiac Chiefs with less than five minutes remaining sent a pro-Viking crowd of about 1,200 away muttering. Bob Fowler's second goal of the night tied the game at 5-4 and Danny Price won it with only five seconds left.

Oak Bay and Victoria High Schools will battle for the Colonist Cup, emblematic of city soccer supremacy at Royal Athletic Park next Friday night.

Oak Bay nailed down first place by defeating Mount Douglas, 3-1, yesterday. Victoria defeated Esquimalt, 1-0, to finish second, one point behind the Bays.

The visiting Esquimalt team, trying for their second victory of the year, held Tyees scoreless through the first half.

Don Frampton accounted for the game's lone goal, on a corner kick from Nirmal Dillon. Esquimalt's goalie Bill Crystal played a strong game.

Playing at Mount Douglas, Oak Bay handed the home team its fifth defeat. A quick goal by the Bay's Nigel Gillett and another by his teammate Don McCormick opened the game.

Mount Douglas' only goal came later in the first half with the credit going to Ken Robertson. The third Oak Bay goal was scored in the second half by Greg Pearson.

Vancouver Canucks last night remained the only unbeaten club in the Western Hockey League, running their win streak to five games with a 4-2 conquest of Spokane Comets before more than 4,000 Vancouver fans.

As usual, it was veteran centre Phil Maloney who led Canucks. He set up the winning goal and continued his goal-a-game pace by scoring the clincher in the third period.

Rookie-goalkeeper Gilles Villemure, after being beaten twice within 16 seconds in the first period, turned in another fine game. He made a great stop when Comets led by 2-1, then robbed Max Mekilok with Canucks leading, 3-2.

At Calgary, before 2,119 fans, San Francisco Seals backed up the great goaling of Jim McLeod by handing the Stampeders their fifth straight defeat, 6-1.

Full House Dazzled

From the moment they took the floor last night the Harlem Stars succeeded in completely dazzling the capacity crowd at Central Junior High School.

To start the evening off, the Victoria High Totems and the Oak Bay basketball teams clashed in the preliminary match.

Fighting back from a six-point deficit at half-time, the Totems surged ahead and managed to stop the Bays, 39-37. Vic High's Rick Ogmundson led the point-getters with 17 points.

With the dazzling dribbling of Ju-Ju Benson and the starry baskets of Bob Hopkins, the Stars were able to defeat the local Haida Chiefs 63-48.

The hard-driving Chiefs kept up their fight even though they were faced with the jokes and antics of Star Richard Morgan who continually tried to out-think the referees.

Local high school basketball begins Nov. 9 with a jamboree which includes all the high school teams.

Big Job

Girl Referee 'Complicates' O.C. Soccer

LONDON (AP) — Pretty Margaret Spinks, 23, the first woman in British soccer history to qualify as a league referee, says she doesn't know if she wants a regular job.

"You see, I've never refereed a game in my life," she explained. "I just took the examination — and passed."

Horrified at the thought of a woman referee, the Referees' Association has appealed to the Football Association, the game's governing body.

Said Ken Thorogood, secretary of the Referees' Association:

"A girl referee would complicate football. Referees dress with the players. That would never do in her case."

Swimming 'Everest' Topped

By JACK SULLIVAN
Canadian Press Sports Editor

For almost a quarter century the four-minute mile stood as sport's Mount Everest, a beckoning objective that remained defiantly impregnable. Then, on May 6, 1954, at Oxford, England, Roger Bannister was clocked in 3:59.4.

The athletic Everest had been conquered. Bannister, then a 25-year-old London medical student, was the marvel of the track. The world was still saluting the blonde Englishman when John Landy of Australia ran the mile in 3:58.0.

That was just seven weeks after Bannister's break-through—on June 21, at Turku, Finland.

It wasn't long before the four-minute mile became commonplace.

Four men did it in one race—July 19, 1957, at London. The same day, at Stockholm, Don Waern of Sweden also broke the barrier. By the time the 1958 British Empire Games at Cardiff, Wales, rolled around, 19 men of 10 nationalities had broken it 39 times.

The 40th four-minute mile wa run at Cardiff by Herb Elliott of Australia. Now, at any big-time outdoor meet, it's a crashing flop if one, two or more men don't get under the one-time magic four minutes.

This week, another athletic Everest was beaten and it was practically ignored.

Dawn Fraser of Australia, a self-described "asthmatic old woman" of 25, thrashed through the Olympic swimming pool at Melbourne in a 60-second clocking for the 110-yard freestyle, two-tenths of a second faster than her recognized record.

NEVER BY WOMEN

Remarkable? Well, the 60-second plateau over 110 yards had been sought by the world's outstanding female swimmers in much the same way as the runners had set their eyes on the four-minute mile. The top male swimmers regularly bust the 60-second mark over the distance, some by as much as three and four seconds, but never a woman until Miss Fraser accomplished it on Tuesday.

Her performance certainly sets the dark-haired, laughing-eyed Australian apart as the greatest female swimmer the world has known. And it is all the more remarkable, considering the age of this five-foot-8½-inch woman in a sport where champions retire at age 16 or 17.

TWICE OLYMPIC CHAMP

But Miss Fraser has been confounding the aquatic world and rewriting the record books for years. At nine she was an asthmatic and, although she still has a little difficulty catching her breath, she has been ruling the world in the short sprint since 1955 when, at 18, she was a rookie in competitive swimming.

There's nothing boastful about this tall Adelaide office clerk. Every time she enters a meet she has what she terms "a great compulsion to break a world record." Since 1960 she has been out after the 60-second mark, always fearful that some teen-aged phenom would beat her to it.

WINS TWICE

She went to the 1960 Olympics in Rome as world record holder in the 100 metres, 110 yards, 200 metres and 220 yards free-style and 110-yard butterfly. She is the first woman ever to win the Olympic 100-metre title twice, in 1956 at Melbourne and 1960 at Rome.

Her butterfly mark has been eclipsed by 17-year-old Mary Stewart of Vancouver, the world record holder with a time of 1:07.3 set last July 28 at Vancouver.

Misses Stewart and Fraser likely will clash at the Nov. 22-Dec. 1 British Empire Games at Perth, Australia. They just might send statisticians scurrying for the record books.

LADY GOLFERS HAVE KNEE TROUBLES

In their backswing, lady golfers tend to lock their right knees and lift their left heels too far off the ground.

If this applies to any of you, pay attention to the comfortable position of the lady at address in illustration #1.

Illustration #2 clearly shows what I mean about locking and lifting. This is not the way to get distance.

Now, note illustration #3. The left heel is only an inch or so off the ground and will snap back to the ground as soon as the downswing starts. The right knee is bent -- not locked. The lady is now in position for a correct downswing.

Garden Notes

Black Beauty Tips

By M. V. CHESNUT, FRHS

When we are engaged in scattering fertilizer or spreading manure around a plant or tree, one common mistake even the most experienced gardeners make is to concentrate the stuff too close to the main stem, forgetting that the really active portion of the roots are the tips, and these extend quite a distance out from the centre of the plant.

I though I knew the habits of my plants pretty well, but my eyes were opened on two occasions during the past growing season.

★ ★ ★

The first was a plant of the hybrid Zucchini squash called Black Beauty. All the bush type squash varieties are plants of enormous vigor, so in laying down a mulch of old manure over the roots, I extended it in a circle a good three feet out from the centre of the plant.

You can imagine my surprise, then, when while scuffling off weeds in the space between the circles of mulch, I found the whole area filled with squash roots. I measured the distance through curiosity, and found some of the white root tips 5 feet, 8 inches from the centre!

Away down at the far end of the garden we have a few ancient rhubarb plants which have been shamefully neglected, for there is never enough manure to go round, and the poor old rhubarb always gets the short end of the stick, with the precious stuff going to the more glamorous subjects. The plants have always cropped well, though, even though they have never been fed at all, producing thick, juicy sticks of excellent flavor.

I know now how that rhubarb got its food. Only last week I was cleaning up the remains of a two-year-old compost heap, and after raking up and barrowing away the last of the compost, I picked over the site with the garden fork in preparation for a new heap.

Just under the surface of the soil, I ran across the unmistakable thong-like roots of rhubarb, and the nearest plant was 12 feet away! It is obvious now that in its impoverished soil, the rhubarb roots had foraged far and wide in search of nourishment, and had encountered and exploited the rich nutrient juices draining from my compost heap.

Manure and fertilizer—and water—should always be applied where the active roots can make use of it. Mind you, I am not suggesting for a minute that manure should be spread in a 12-foot radius circle around every rhubarb plant, for the roots wouldn't have travelled that distance if the plants had been fed in normal fashion. The point I am making, though, is that far too much water, fertilizer and manure is being wasted by applying the stuff too close, where there are no active feeding roots.

With most plants and trees, you can get a fair idea of where the feeding roots lie by studying the shape and habit of growth, for the greatest number of active root hairs will be in the area where rain drips off the plant. Where branches extend horizontally or tend to droop slightly downward, the place to apply nutrients and moisture is in the drip area under the branch tips. Nature isn't such a fool as to place active feeding roots under an umbrella of leaves where no natural rainfall can penetrate.

Plants and trees with upward-reaching branches or leaves tend to channel the rainfall inward toward the main stem or trunk. Such plants usually have a much more compact and deep-plunging root system.

A Frenchman Tells JOHN CROSBY

Too Busy to Chase Girls!

PARIS—I had lunch with a French husband the other day who said to me rather gloomily: "I don't see why you bothered to come to live in Paris. These days we lead exactly the same kind of life you do in America. You might as well have stayed home."

I said I didn't think life in Paris resembled life in the United States very much.

"Well, you live in St. Germain-des-Pres. That's not at all typical of French life. Now take my life. I get up very early because I live in the suburbs. Just like an American. There's no place to park my car anywhere in Paris, so I take the train.

★ ★ ★

"When I get home at night, I am too exhausted to hold a conversation with my wife. After dinner, I turn on the television—just like in America. Then I go to bed. What's the difference between that and America?"

I said it had a familiar and very un-French ring about it, that sort of life.

"Life in France is becoming increasingly un-French," said this Frenchman. "Women are taking a more and more important part in French life." Then he added in tones of shocked horror: "Do you know that rarely does a man buy a car in France without discussing it with his wife? Imagine discussing a thing like that with a woman!"

★ ★ ★

When did all this Americanization of his life begin?

"It begins in about the second year of every Frenchman's married life," said the Parisian. "Then you have had some children and your wife wants a refrigerator, which she has got along without all her life until now. She wants all sorts of electrical engines."

How about the food? That's not becoming American?

"Oh, but assuredly," said the Frenchman. "Now we worry about calories and cholesterol. We never thought about things like that before. More and more our doctors tell us we must eat broiled steaks. Not so much butter. How can you cook without butter? The whole secret of French cooking is plenty of butter and lots of time. Now we can't eat the butter and we don't have the time."

★ ★ ★

The Frenchman has always been a family man. The home was the heart of his existence, and he was absolute king there. "Not any more," said the Frenchman. "More and more the Frenchman is a company man—just like in America. His primary interest ceases to be the family. More and more he leaves all the household problems to his wife. Before, no wife would dare buy so much as a box of matches without consulting her husband.

"The sort of things we consider newsworthy are becoming very American too," said the Frenchman. "We used to get excited over crimes of passion. Now, more and more, the front pages are being taken over by depressing things like the discovery of a new oil well. The papers print pictures of new factories on the front pages instead of pictures of girls, as they ought to.

"A few years ago we'd talk about the Folies Bergeres or our wine or our women. Now we talk about a new dam we just built. Technicians and technical affairs are taking over everything. Even the language is changing—becoming more anglicized. In an industrial and engineering society, eight of ten words are English.

"The public spirit itself is changing. Frenchmen are more in a hurry. Paris is no longer very gay. I don't know why you didn't settle in Rome. It's much gayer there, no industry at all. Only movies. In Paris, we used to chase the girls through the street. Now we are too busy chasing money."

First Step Taken

Two Join Forces

National Theatre Near?

WINNIPEG (CP)—The first concrete step in the formation of a national theatre movement was taken Friday with the announcement the Manitoba Theatre Centre and Toronto's Red Barn Theatre will join forces to produce George Bernard Shaw's play Mrs. Warren's Profession.

To be directed by Marigold Charlesworth, the play will open in Toronto at the Central Library Theatre Nov. 7 and at the Theatre Centre in Winnipeg Jan. 11.

★ ★ ★

Leading roles will be played by Winnipeg's Jennifer Phipps and Toronto's Tony Van Bridge.

Officials of both groups, in a joint press release here, said they see the decision to embark on the co-operative venture as a first step toward the eventual establishment of "a truly national Canadian theatre."

★ ★ ★

The two groups said by arranging exchange productions "physical standards of presentation in costumes and settings can be kept at a high level, while more sizable audiences will be enabled to see the productions over a shorter period of time."

Exchange productions would enable theatres outside of Toronto to raise professional levels of casting and performance and allow Winnipeg professionals to extend their range with audiences in other cities.

Canadian theatre would be allowed to make the most productive use of top native directing talent, always a scarce commodity. It was felt a market for legitimate theatre had been developed and was continuing to be developed in Canada.

The co-operative production will mark the first time two Canadian theatrical companies located in different cities have pooled their resources to find a wider audience for a particular production.

'Instant' Swim Device Deflated by Experts

WASHINGTON (AP) — The Federal Trade Commission, challenging the claims of a California businessman, said Friday there is no such thing as an invisible swimming aid beneath bathing suits yet "makes anyone unsinkable," permits land lubbers to "swim instantly" and makes "poor swimmers look like champions."

★ ★ ★

The agency questioned advertising claims made for an inflatable "Swim-Ezy" device marketed by Heinz Kirchner of Pasadena, who trades as the Universe Company.

★ ★ ★

According to the FTC, the "Swim-Ezy" will not, of itself, prevent all users from sinking; will not instantly enable the user to swim, and will not make poor swimmers perform like champions. Furthermore, the commission argued, "it will visibly alter the bodily configuration."

★ ★ ★

Kirchner has 30 days in which to reply to the complaint.

Two Grits Seek Top Post Today

BURNABY (CP) — There will be two candidates for the post of provincial president when the B.C. Liberal party holds its one-day annual convention today.

Delegates will discuss resolutions touching on the Cuban situation, old-age pensions, developments of the tourist industry and aid to industry.

They will also choose between president William Gilmour, a Penticton lawyer seeking a second term, and George van Roggen, a Vancouver lawyer and former president of the Coast-Capilano Liberal Riding Association.

Alex Manson, former supreme court justice, will introduce a resolution pledging the B.C. section of the party to "resist the growing tendency to centralize authority in the provincial cabinet."

Jewelry Firm Marks 50 Years in Victoria

Rose's Ltd., jewellers, 1317 Douglas, this week celebrates the 50th anniversary of its foundation by Joseph Rose in 1912.

First store used by the firm was across Douglas from the present location, partly on the site now occupied by a men's clothing store at Johnson and Douglas.

After five years, the firm moved to a store on Government Street, and prospered there until 1938 when it took over its present premises.

Seven years ago, increasing trade necessitated the firm expanding and taking over additional premises alongside.

Mrs. Sonia Rose, widow of the founder, is still active in the firm as president. A son, Ray Rose, is managing director.

Extra Holiday

The provincial cabinet has declared Wednesday, Dec. 26 — Boxing Day — as a holiday under the Factories Act making it a holiday for all government, commercial and industrial workers.

Sunday Sports, Films Win in Prairie Vote

WINNIPEG (CP)—Winnipeg voters went in favor of Sunday sports and movies in the city, a ballot count of Wednesday's referendum showed Friday with a nearly two-thirds majority.

$350,000 Gone, Blonde Held

OGDENSBURG, N.Y. (UPI) —Mrs. Dolores Clow, 36, a blonde former model, was arrested today by state police to end an international police search after a Brockville, Ont., automobile agency discovered a shortage of between $350,000 and $400,000.

Police in the U.S. and Canada had been alerted to be on the lookout for Mrs. Clow who had not been at work at the agency or at her home in Prescott, Ont., for the past week.

Mrs. Clow had been the manager of Billings Motors Ltd. for eight years. She was charged with theft.

The Billings agency is the largest General Motors of Canada agency between Toronto and Montreal. The losses, spread over several years, were discovered by auditors. It was said only $5,000 was covered by a bonding firm.

Mrs. Clow was brought before St. Lawrence county judge Donald Sanford last night and arraigned on a fugitive from justice charge. She posted $5,000 bail pending extradition proceedings.

When the losses were announced, Murray Billings, head of the agency, said he would issue a statement shortly on the firm's future. "The magnitude of the loss could close the business," he said.

The former model, who lived with her four-year-old daughter in a two-storey colonial style home and drove to work in a beige Cadillac, was wearing a half-length fur jacket and brown business suit when state troopers arrested her.

Her husband quit his $5,500-a-year job as town engineer in Prescott last year to take a veterinary course at the Ontario Agricultural College in Guelph, Ont.

Brockville police have sworn out a theft warrant, but Chief W. F. Young said it may be some time before the blonde is returned to Canada to face trial. Young said Mrs. Clow was being held on a fugitive's warrant because she was born in the U.S. Unless she waives extradition, lengthy hearing will be needed before she is brought to trial in Brockville.

This is the word from UNICEF, the organization dedicated to aiding infants in areas where there is little to go around and a lot of people to be cared for.

The gaily-colored greeting cards are painted free of charge by world-renowned artists and faithfully reproduced in card form for sale.

Proceeds from the sale of the cards goes to increase UNICEF funds at present being used for 495 projects in 153 countries.

Among the services provided are health maintenance, disease control, nutrition, welfare and education.

In true United Nations spirit the cards are painted by artists from the United States, Switzerland, Egypt, Africa, Russia, Spain, Germany and France.

Cost of the cards is $1 per box of 10.

UNICEF greeting cards may be obtained from Miss R. W. Eaton of the Victoria branch of UNA, 764 Fort Street, or by writing to UNICEF, Box 2187, Toronto, Ont.

'Boost Fines' For Minors Who Drink

VANCOUVER (CP) — Managing director Roy Corbett of the B.C. Hotel Association Friday called for stiffer penalties for minors who frequent licensed drinking establishments.

Mr. Corbett said the fines of minors convicted of such offences should be brought to the maximum level of $300 which is assessed waiters who serve them.

He said the association will ask the B.C. government to amend the Liquor Act to provide more severe penalties to those under 21 who present false identification and lie about their age while on licensed premises.

Mr. Corbett said the waiter was "the victim who gets penalized while the culprit gets off easily."

Mill Fire Kills Man

PRINCE GEORGE (CP)—Charles Watson, 59-year-old chief engineer at Crescent Spur Sawmill, died late Thursday in a fire at the mill 113 miles east of here.

Police said Watson for some reason went back inside the burning building.

The sawmill, valued at $124,000 was destroyed.

SECOND NEWS SECTION — VICTORIA, BRITISH COLUMBIA, SATURDAY, OCTOBER 27, 1962 — PAGE THIRTEEN

United Fund Goal in Sight

Greater Victoria's United Appeal returns edged past the 70 per cent mark yesterday with a total of $251,755 collected.

"This compares with just over 60 per cent of the goal which was collected during the same time period last year," a spokesman said.

On a division-by-division analysis, he said, indications were favorable for the drive to meet the $360,000 goal needed to keep 23 health, welfare and family service agencies operating during 1963.

Meanwhile, the residential campaign has reached 42 per cent of its $80,000 objective with returns averaging $3,500 a day.

Persons missed in the door-to-door campaign can mail their donations to United Appeal headquarters at Spencerhouse, 1951 Cook.

Campaigners recorded their biggest day up to 10 a.m. yesterday when a total of $21,000 was recorded from all divisions.

A further $10,000 was pledged from 10 a.m. to 4 p.m.

Bulk of Thursday's returns came from teachers and school maintenance staffs, the industrial-commercial division and provincial government employees.

At Local Airstrip

Three Survive Takeoff Crash

Death looked the other way when a light airplane carrying three Victorians crashed on takeoff at the Butler Brothers airstrip in Central Saanich yesterday.

The six-year-old Stinson owned and piloted by Joseph Howroyd, 10612 Madrona, narrowly missed high-tension powerlines as it plummeted over a 75-foot cliff at the foot of the airstrip.

MINOR INJURIES

Passengers Jack Todd, 451 Newport and 16-year-old David Askey, 7356 Wallace Drive, were taken to hospital by passing motorists for treatment of minor injuries.

Mr. Todd required stitches to close a deep gash to his head, received when he fell against the door post of the light plane.

DOG UNHURT

The Askey boy suffered a wrenched back. Mr. Todd's dog Gunner, escaped injury. The pilot suffered a minor head cut.

Mr. Howroyd said he was halfway down the sloping, 2,000-foot runway when power cut out of his engine.

CARBURETOR FAULT

He blamed the failure on a faulty carburetor.

"I didn't have enough fuel to stop before we went over the bank," he said.

The plane soared over the bank, narrowly missing the power lines, and snagged into heavy telephone cables across the road.

DOWN EASY

"They kind of let us down easy," said Mr. Howroyd. He estimated his air speed as about 60 miles an hour.

The crash was the first experienced at the airstrip, in operation since 1955.

Turn Back The Clock

Daylight saving time ends officially Sunday at 2 a.m. and British Columbians are reminded to turn their clocks back one hour Saturday night.

British Columbia will join the western United States in using standard time, after a month-long extension over the usual five-month daylight period.

Colonist Carrier Boy Up for Bravery Prize

Yesterday's unknown hero, who dived into the frigid waters of the Gorge to rescue a drowning five-year-old boy, has been identified as a Colonist carrier boy and recommended for this year's Optimist club award for bravery.

John Jefferson, 13, of 36 Lotus, saw young Marvin Wright trying to swim to shore in the Gorge Thursday afternoon near Bamfield Park.

* * *

He was swimming in from a raft which he and his sister had been standing on when it drifted to shore.

"A lady saw the little girl on the raft," said John yesterday, "and she was shouting at her to lie down and keep still until she could row out to her. Then I noticed the boy in the water so I dove in and swam out to him.

"The water was really cold but I was afraid he couldn't make it alone. After I was dried out I felt pretty good."

The Optimist Club of Victoria felt pretty good about John's bravery, too. Officials announced they had recommended him as a candidate for this year's club award for bravery.

Car Sped Away As Fire Erupted

By GEORGE WYNDLOW

NANAIMO — A mysterious black car was seen speeding out of the S. Madill Ltd. property early Friday as a $300,000 fire was beginning to destroy the firm's big machinery-making plant.

Police said the fire of unknown origin apparently began about 1 a.m. and had been burning for some time before passing motorist William Lehman, 821 Douglas Road, saw it and started for the firehall to sound the alarm.

AT HIGH SPEED

Mr. Lehman was crossing the George Pearson bridge and, when he slowed down momentarily to see how extensive the fire was, he saw a late-model black car of U.S. make come out of the Madill lot at high speed.

He assumed the driver was going to give the alarm but decided to drive to the firehall anyway. When he arrived, he found no alarm had been turned in.

FEW MINUTES

When Mr. Lehman first saw the fire, it was burning only at the waterfront end of the shed. By the time firemen arrived—it was within a few minutes—the whole of the large building was enveloped in flames.

The firemen had to continue their battle until almost 7 a.m. because of a brisk west wind and continuous explosions of oil drums in the wreckage.

TANK SAVED

Fifteen sets of welding apparatus were destroyed but the central acetylene tank which supplied them did not explode. If it had, officials said, the entire area might have been devastated.

As it was, the Madill shipyard, other buildings and the nearby civic arena were saved.

NEW DESIGN

The machine shop was producing a steel spar and self-propelled log loader of a new design on which the company had been working for some time and in which $80,000 had been invested. This machine was at or near the point at which the fire started.

In spite of the loss, there will not be any extensive layoff among the 60 employees.

WORK AS USUAL

The main office, tool crib, drafting room and shipbuilding room were saved.

In the latter, a 40-foot seagoing tug and a number of boom boats were being built. The crew worked as usual in this department Friday.

Managing director Charles Madill said it would be possible to obtain new equipment quickly and get back into production within a comparatively short time. Most of the loss was insured.

Blaze Hits Peak

Biggest fire in Nanaimo since flames consumed most of Chinatown, mysterious blaze at Madill machinery-making plant on waterfront is seen at its height early yesterday. Damage was estimated at about $300,000.—(W. Leahy)

Fatal Crash

Driver Fined $500

A $500 fine yesterday was levied against AB Frederick William Empey, HMCS Naden, convicted of dangerous driving as the result of a two-car crash on the Malahat which killed Mrs. Gladys Dobbie, 48.

Mr. Justice Craig Munroe suspended the driver's licence of the sailor for five years.

THREE MONTHS

Empey was told he may pay the fine in $100 monthy instalments but must serve a three-month jail term if he fails to pay.

Empey had been charged with criminal negligence in the May 21 accident but a jury Thursday found him guilty of the lesser charge of dangerous driving.

STATION WAGON

Mrs. Dobbie was sitting beside Empey, with another couple in the back seat, when his car collided with an oncoming station wagon driven by Norman Fraser Putnam, 1958 Hampshire, and containing his wife, another couple and three children.

Mr. Putnam testified during the trial he could remember nothing between the time his group set out from a picnic for Victoria and his coming to in hospital after the accident.

Seen In Passing

Harry Lukey, making out a bill for a poppy wreath. (He is manager of the Poppy Day campaign, and lives with his wife, Ivy, at 2884 Phyllis Street. City Police Mount Counter-Attack On Pranksters

Harried city police last night launched a massive counter-attack against firecracker-hurling Victoria youngsters.

As firecracker complaints flooded the station house telephones, police fuses burned short. In many instances it was impossible to send cars to the firecracker-infested scene as there were not enough police to go around.

Police estimated 150 phone calls went through the phones up to midnight.

A single injury was reported when a four-year-old boy bent over to check an unexploded firecracker and it blew up in his face, slightly injuring his eye.

He was treated at St. Joseph's Hospital and released.

POLICE TO MOVE

In many instances firecrackers were confiscated and plans to confiscate still more tonight if youths continue to set them off in the street or hurl them at passing cars.

Worst offender on the list last night was a 15-year-old youth who threw firecrackers into a post office letter box at Government and Niagara.

CHARGES TO BE LAID

Police were summoned to the scene as well as a post office official who inspected the damage. Police said charges would be laid.

Both Oak Bay and Esquimalt police reported confiscating firecrackers from youngsters who were throwing them in the street.

A police spokesman last night said there was little the department could do by way of prosecuting firecracker offenders.

"Under the bylaw we can summons them if we catch them at it," he said, "but we can't arrest them."

Defence Calls Prosecutor!

A prosecutor found himself in the witness box yesterday and under searching cross-examination from the man who is usually his assistant.

W. R. McIntyre was called as a defence witness in the assize court trial of Mrs. Molly D. Carroll, 1711 Cedar Hill Road, charged with criminal negligence in the April 19 collision which caused the death of Mrs. Blossom Smith, about 60.

CROWN COUNSEL

Mr. McIntyre has been Crown counsel at the fall sitting of the assizes.

For this trial he handed over his prosecuting duties to his usual assistant, George McMinn, so he could be called as a witness by defence attorney G. F. Gregory who only last Thursday was matching wits with Mr. McIntyre in another criminal negligence case.

Mr. McIntyre testified that his house, at 339 Foul Bay Road, is near the scene of the mishap at Foul Bay and Fairfield and he had looked at the scene shortly after the accident.

He said when he learned Mr. Gregory would be defence counsel, he notified Mr. Gregory that he, Mr. McIntyre, had noticed something at the accident site of which he took "particular note"—the broken-off neck and shoulder of a bottle, apparently a liquor bottle.

TOP INTACT

Under examination from Mr. Gregory, Mr. McIntyre said yellow sealing-tape, that looked like a revenue stamp, and the top of the bottle all were intact. "The whole top of the bottle was intact."

When shown the neck and shoulder of a bottle in court, Mr. McIntyre said it was similar to the one he had seen at the accident site. But he had noticed the top of the court exhibit was unstopped.

Previous testimony from a policeman had been that a full bottle of liquor was found in the Carroll car and fragments of a liquor bottle partly inside, partly outside it.

The trial continues Monday.

Drivers, Hydro Settle

A new labor agreement, including wage increases totalling 14 cents an hour over a two-year period, was signed last night by B.C. Hydro and the Street Railwaymen's Union.

A joint statement issued from Vancouver said the two-year contract provides for a seven-cent increase effective last Sept. 1, when the present contract expired, and a further seven cents Sept. 1, 1963.

EXTRA HOLIDAY

Operators' present rate is $2.40 hourly.

Other contract provisions provide for a paid statutory holiday Easter Monday and three weeks' vacation after five years' service, instead of after eight years as at present.

About 2,000 bus drivers and others, 250 of them in Greater Victoria, are affected.

The union said another contract feature is a clause, paid for on a 50-50 basis, ensuring a minimum 50 per cent of salary until retirement age if a union member cannot carry on with his occupation or be placed in alternate employment.

Anti-Sub Games Slated Monday

Anti-submarine exercises by RCN units will be conducted from 8 a.m. to 1 p.m. Monday in the Race Rocks-Trial Island area of Juan de Fuca Strait.

Surface firings will be performed in the Sheringham Point area of Juan de Fuca Strait from noon to 4 p.m. Monday, and again from 10 a.m. to 4 p.m. Tuesday.

Indians Close Road to Spit

Fishermen wishing to use publicly-owned Cordova Spit in Central Saanich will have to get there by boat.

The access road running to the spit is a private road through East Saanich Indian Reserve and has been closed to non-Indians, Chief Edwin Underwood said last night.

He announced recently the step may become necessary as a number of people were wandering around the reserve being abusive to the Indians and stealing Indian relics.

"It is a private road. We maintain it and we intend to keep it closed," said Chief Underwood.

Treat Helps

Many children making trick-or-treat rounds on Halloween will carry Save the Children Fund donation tins to help unfortunate people of South Korea. Here, Mrs. R. G. Ralph, 3954 Cumberland, gives early donation to Rick Saunders, left, Karen Wong, Lynne Ralph and Gregory Wong.

Passion Play Parallel Patent for Pageant?

* * *

By Ted Shackleford

* * *

Mother, scornfully: "That's no river, that's the Pacific Ocean."

* * *

BEWARE: Anyone who is tempted by all that bright, new merchandise on display in stores as the Christmas season approaches should curb any impulse to shoplift—the word is out to crack down hard on kleptomaniacs and others of similar ilk.

* * *

FELICITATIONS: Jaycee president Eric Charman, off on a trip to attend an international Jaycee convention in Hong Kong, has taken along a goodwill message from Victoria's Acting Mayor Art Dowell to the mayor of Victoria, main city in the Crown colony.

* * *

CIVIC POLITICS: So impressed were Victoria Jaycees with the speech by John Wallace to their meeting this week some approached him afterward and offered to back him if he would run for election to city council. The offer was declined with thanks.

LOOK AROUND: Bertram C. Hale, in the world-wide tourist travel business with Thomas Cook's for 36 years and now semi-retired in Oak Bay, suggests city council should do a little investigating before it spends $45,000 to repeat the centennial pageant next year. Mr. Hale points out even Oberammergau only presents its justly world-famous Passion Play once every 10 years.

SEE, THE SEA: On a bus trip over the Malahat the other day, Colonist reporter Don Gain heard the following: Young girl, pointing to Saanich Inlet: "What river is that?"

Mr. and Mrs. F. C. de Lure, 2320 Trent Street, announce the engagement of their eldest daughter, Judith Christine Louise, to Mr. Michael Frederick Sharpe, youngest son of Mr. and Mrs. G. F. Sharpe, 1834 Grandview Drive. The wedding will take place in St. John's Anglican Church on Nov. 10 at 8 p.m.—(Meyers Studio)

Your Problems

By Ann Landers

Dear Ann Landers: Why would a fellow ask a girl out and not show up? Wouldn't you think if something happened at the last minute a gentleman would telephone a lady and let her know?

Three months ago a fellow stood me up twice in one week. Last night it happened again. The man who stood me up last night works right in this office. I waited for him (with my hat on) for two hours. It was humiliating in front of my folks and my sister. I had my hair set specially for the date and I bought a new purse and a pair of silk gloves.

This morning he said "hi" as if nothing happened. Since he offered no explanation I kept quiet, too.

Some of my girl friends have had the same experience. Why do men pull this? Should a girl ever telephone a fellow and ask what happened to him?—DISAPPOINTED.

Dear Disappointed: A young man who would intentionally stand up a date is irresponsible and inconsiderate.

I don't recommend telephoning a fellow to find out "what happened." But when you work in the same office and see him the next day it certainly seems to be a logical question.

There's always an outside chance of a misunderstanding, in which case the fellow should be given the benefit of the doubt. But, remember, Toots, only one benefit to a customer.

* * *

Dear Ann: I've been divorced 17 years and am having a terrible time with my daughter.

Sue is 24. She flunked out of college and she's had four jobs in the last year. She quit two and was fired from two. She has not worked since June and has made no effort to find a job.

Her idleness, sloppiness and foul mouth is about to drive me crazy. She smokes incessantly and never empties an ash tray. Glasses, apple cores, orange peelings and water melon seeds are in every room, on window sills and under the beds.

I work five days a week from 8 till 5. When I come home the house is just as I left it. I then have to fix dinner and do the laundry and cleaning. Sue refuses to turn a hand.

I have horrors of this situation going on forever. Can I just put her out of the house and make her take care of herself? I've thought of taking her clothes over to her father's but he has remarried and I know he has no interest in her.

Please tell me what to do.—RAW NERVES.

Dear R. N.: A good mother-daughter relationship starts in childhood. Yours never got off the ground.

Tell Sue she has 14 days in which to find a job. Then she can either kick in with one-third of her pay check for room and board and help with the housework and cooking, or she can live elsewhere.

It's high time you blew the whistle on this girl. Until you do she will continue to sit around, freeload and vegetate.

Demure Undies Most Popular

PARIS (TNS)—Only women with inhibitions wear, it seems, black lingerie.

In a tiny but very fashionable lingerie shop in Paris, I've just learned some most revealing facts about those feminine things women keep—or should keep — unmentionable.

Madame Ingrid Rouge is the owner of Candide, the boudoir-size boutique where Brigitte Bardot, Sophia Loren, Audrey Hepburn, Kim Novak as well as society women and personalities buy their undies and nighties. They all come for the Candide style, the demure, girlish and coy lingerie which made this shop world famous.

"The idea that vamp-type women go in for black lingerie is quite wrong," Madame Rouge told me. "Brigitte Bardot and Sophia Loren, for instance, only want most demure nighties, those white ones I call the 'choir-boy style'."

THE INNOCENTS

Vamps, according to Madame Rouge, like demure lingerie as a piquant contrast. Besides, this expert in feminine unmentionables has her own theory about women's minds. Even the vampiest girl, she thinks, dreams of herself as pure and white come night. In her sleep she likes to imagine herself the innocent girl.

Slim, blonde Madame Rouge started lingerie designing strictly by accident. She and her husband lost everything during the war and after having been used to the life of a rich society woman, friends who wanted to help her, offered her the chance to take over this lingerie shop. Having no technical knowledge, Madame Rouge simply followed her instinct to select and later design lingerie she would have liked herself. Her fashionable clients happened to have the same taste.

The lingerie I have seen at Candide has nothing to do with those styles—frilly, black and naughty — usually connected with Paris. Madame Rouge considers "naughty" undies as vulgar.

Slips are very simple, bias-cut and smooth. Nightgowns are often high-necked and sleeved like shirts for choir-boys and the peignoirs are also demure and often monastically simple with only an occasional lace frill or bow.

White is the favorite color of the designer as well as of her clients. As fabrics Madame Rouge likes nylon, cotton and velveteen for robes since even rich women, she thinks, like their things to be practical.

Some of her clients, Madame Rouge admitted, sleep "in the raw," but they still like to have "something to take off." It's like the French word "deshabille." The peignoir or robe still covers up.

Pyjamas, I was told are not very popular now in Paris. French women only wear them for winter sports or when they travel in a sleeper.

While I was talking with Madame Rouge a mother and daughter came in to pick lingerie for the girl's trousseau. What did the girl choose? Boat-necked baby-doll nighties with just a bow on each shoulder and the demurest white peignoir with just a frill of eyelet embroidery around the high neck and half sleeves.

Bride Carries Grapes, Roses

The processional "Praise My Soul the King of Heaven" preceded the double ring ceremony that united in marriage Roberta Jo-Ann Crawford and Mr. Ronald Keith Wood, Rev. Canon G. Biddle officiated in St. John's Anglican Church for the daughter of Mr. and Mrs. H. Stewart Crawford, Foul Bay Road, and the son of Mr. and Mrs. Norris L. Wood of Calgary, Alta.

The bride entered the candlelit church wearing an elegant gown of white satin brocade in rose pattern, fashioned with scoop neckline and basque bodice. Dainty seed pearls accented the neckline and a bouffant bustle was formed by the full skirt. Her shoulder-length veil was held by a pearl tiara and she carried a grape spray with large duchess roses tied with blue ribbon and a sprig of myrtle. Her cultured pearl earrings were the gift of the groom.

Cyclamen pink dresses in blending shades were worn by Mrs. R. Pettie, matron of honor, Miss Karen Wood and Miss Patricia Valentine bridesmaids. The peau de soie gowns were cut on the A line and toning picture hats were worn. Their bouquets were white satin leaves and duchess roses.

Dr. J. Mathieson, Edmonton, Alta., was best man and F/O R. Hicks and Mr. D. Kricken ushered.

Miss Pamela Paver, soloist, sang "The Lord's Prayer" and later at the reception, "I Love Thee" and "O Perfect Love."

Pink and white chrysanthemums and flickering tapers decorated St. John's Hall for the reception. A lace cloth made by the bride's grandmother, Mrs. A. Leal, topped the central table. Canon Biddle proposed the toast.

For a honeymoon to Olympia and Portland, Mrs. Wood chose a smart wine and black suit with wine pill-box hat and black patent accessories. A cymbidium orchid was pinned to her lapel. The couple will reside in Vancouver.

Fire Rate Highest

Canada has the highest fire rate of any civilized nation according to Mr. A. E. Cunningham, inspector of electrical energy for Victoria and Esquimalt, who recently addressed the Victoria Branch of the Consumers' Association of Canada.

The reasons Mr. Cunningham added, were faulty heating, careless smokers and faulty electrical wiring. Fuse boxes and circuit breakers give excellent protection he said, but should never exceed 15 amps in the home. The speaker continued to discuss dangers of frayed and loose wires and gave the history of electrical inspection.

Mrs. R. J. Penman thanked Mr. Cunningham.

During the business meeting the use of staples in food packaging, practicality of pointed shoes for children and a report on the lack of interest in elections were discussed.

Blend thoroughly and serve.

May Court Club Plans Expansion

OTTAWA (CP) — Plans to extend May Court clubs across Canada were revealed at the 22nd annual meeting of the Affiliated May Court Clubs of Canada.

Mrs. A. B. McLean of Sault Ste. Marie, Ont., affiliation president, told delegates the clubs were strong enough to become "a truly Canadian organization formed to maintain a high standard of social service and philanthropic work throughout all of our great country not only in Ontario."

The organization was formed in 1898 at the suggestion of the Countess of Aberdeen, wife of the Governor-General. It wasn't until some years later that the women began community work. Today there are about 1,500 members in nine Ontario clubs.

Credit Women Instal Officers

Club colors of blue and gold, in tall candles and tiny button chrysanthemums, set the table theme at the 29th annual installation banquet of Victoria Credit Women's Breakfast Club, Thursday evening, in the Dominion Hotel board room.

These candles represented the local club, the Pacific Northwest Council, the international Credit Women's Breakfast Group, and three tenets of the club creed—faith, vision and courage.

Incoming officers are Mrs. W. (Flo) Reid, president; Miss Frances Macdonald, first vice-president; Mrs. Kay Price, second; Mrs. V. (Biddy) Morley, secretary, and Mrs. Lois Fitzgerald, treasurer.

Cool in Alarm

Pulpit or Pumper?

PEACE RIVER, Alta. (CP)—When the fire alarm sounds during Sunday services at Peace River Baptist church, the congregation looks expectantly at Rev. Douglas Spinney.

But Mr. Spinney, a volunteer fireman and amateur pilot, goes right on preaching. He has an agreement with the fire brigade—the pulpit comes before the pumper.

The Boston-educated clergyman, whose ambition as a youth was to become a bush pilot, uses a four-seater Bellanca aircraft to keep track of his far-flung parish.

Catholic Council For Two Years?

VATICAN CITY (AP) — Indications were current Friday that the Roman Catholic ecumenical council may go on for two years—twice as long as originally expected — and maybe much longer.

One reason is the volume of oratory going on in St. Peter's Basilica, which has been turned into a sort of ecclesiastical town hall.

FLOOD OF OPINIONS

The bishops assembled from around the world apparently have a flood of opinions to air.

"Most of us like to talk," observed Archbishop Paul J. Hallinan, of Atlanta, Ga. "Apparently we're in for the duration."

Considering the pace of the first two weeks of the council, the amount of the speechmaking and bulk of issues to be handled, some bishops say the council could last 10 years.

No time limit has been set for the council. Pope John said he could fix the starting date but no one could foretell the closing date.

The longest such gathering in the church's history—the Council of Trent—lasted 18 years, from 1545 to 1563.

The current gathering is the first time in the lives of the 2,400 bishops here that they've all got together and the circumstances seem to have let loose an avalanche of viewpoints and ideas.

TALKS LIMITED

Speeches are supposed to be limited to 10 minutes each. But it was learned that the bishops, warming up to the debates, often ignore the restriction, without interference from the presidium.

They're still apparently far from finished with the one subject or "schema"—the church's liturgy. There are about 70 other "schematas" to go and even other matters can be introduced.

City Church Notes

James Bay 70 Years Old

James Bay United Church will celebrate its 70th anniversary tomorrow.

The church, which opened its doors in 1892 as James Bay Methodist, under the Rev. Ebenezer Robson, has been serving the community ever since.

THE VOICE OF ONE

By REV. DR. FRANK S. MORLEY

There is an art in giving criticism. Criticism can be merely malicious, intended to hurt. It can be without sympathy or appreciation. We are commanded to "speak the truth in love." Some people are born sneer-sighted, with a habitual spirit of fault-finding. It was said of a person, "That woman nags even herself."

A certain columnist, asked about his chief talent, replied, "Invective." When Edmund Gosse was sent a manuscript he would frequently write a letter praising it highly. Then at a dinner table or in conversation later would let his claws out in some cruelly destructive remark.

Was No Judge

When Princess Louise, daughter of Queen Victoria, lived in Government House at Ottawa with her husband, the Marquis of Lorne, she painted the citadel and port of Quebec.

The son of Chester Arthur, U.S. president, saw the oil painting in the drawing room and gave it as his opinion it was a masterpiece. Then he added, "But, you know, I am no judge of such things." Such criticism is very devastating.

Dangerous Virtue

One can agree tact is a very dangerous virtue. An evangelist once remarked, "I was powerfully used by the Lord till the Devil taught me tact." Still one can scarcely forgive Toplady, author of the hymn Rock of Ages, for saying John Wesley "should be tarred and feathered and driven from the country."

There is not a single man in any field of life who has achieved greatness who hasn't been brutally criticized. Nobody finds it very easy to take.

Dickens was enormously sensitive, and any nit-wit could utterly deflate him with a most casual, unintelligent comment.

Very Sensitive

Emily Dickenson was so sensitive she did not want her poems published until after her death.

To pay undue attention to critics is unwise. An Indian was building a canoe. One passerby suggested it was too long so he shortened it. Another said it was too wide so he narrowed it. Another said it was too deep so he made it shallower. The canoe turned into a topsy-turvy mess.

He began again and this time when a critic passed by the Indian remarked, "Last one was everybody's canoe. This is Indian's boat."

WESTERN RED CEDAR "BEVEL" SIDING

Nature has endowed the giant red cedar of British Columbia with every quality a homeowner could ask for in a versatile construction material with its "built-in" weather resistance, insulation value, working ease and, above all, inherent beauty. Western Red Cedar is the traditional choice of architects everywhere, for every application. The attractive grain and warm colors of this fine wood blend beautifully with any home style, modern or traditional —in any setting, urban or rural.

Winning Contract

Players who show imagination and courage in making a sacrifice bid sometimes lack those qualities when circumstances require a sacrifice play. Few would even contemplate giving up a certain trump trick, but that was the only defence on this deal. East invested his trump trick wisely, and received a two-trick dividend.

Opening lead: ◇ 5

The North-South bidding was good. After South had rebid one no trump, North could expect a game contract, but there was a wide choice of denomination; only hearts could be firmly ruled out. The jump to three clubs was the best way to explore all the possibilities. This begged for a spade preference, and instructed South to avoid no trump unless he held a probable double guard in hearts. When North raised to four diamonds, he was hoping for a delayed preference to spades if South had a doubleton honor, but South was unable to oblige.

In one sense, the North-South bidding was too good. As dummy was sure to produce a heart shortage, West was able to come up with the best lead—a trump. South tried dummy's nine, and East's ten forced the king.

South realized that he would be in some difficulty if the spade finesse proved to be a loser. If he played for two immediate heart ruffs, he would end up losing a spade, a diamond and a club. He therefore decided correctly that spades must be played at once. He would then have prospects of establishing at least one spade, and so avoid a club loser.

When the spade queen lost to East's king, the critical position was reached. The auction revealed that South was likely to make two spades, two clubs, four diamonds, a heart and two heart ruffs. If East led his diamond eight, declarer would not find it difficult, after West's diamond lead, to play low from his hand. Declarer would lose a heart ruff, but gain a trump trick.

East found the only defence by leading his diamond queen. Now, if North ruffed even one heart, East's diamond eight would be the setting trick.

Cranes Warm

WASHINGTON (AP)—Sixteen whooping cranes—all adults—have arrived so far at their wintering grounds on the south-eastern coast of Texas, the interior department said Friday. A record 38 of the scarce birds, including five young, migrated to Canada last spring.

Standard Is High

Saanich fire department Captain Jim Logie, right, presents certificate of merit to Colquitz Junior High School officials for maintaining high standard of fire safety at school. Receiving certificate are principal Jack Drummond and building custodian Fred Westgate.—(Robin Clarke)

Election 'Out'

Low Funds Bring NDP Austerity

NEW WESTMINSTER (CP)—The B.C. New Democratic Party is in financial difficulties and has had to institute a tight-money policy and austerity in its provincial office.

Officers of the party said Friday, while the membership is growing and the party has been successful at the polls, money is in short supply.

NO ELECTION FUND

The financial position was mentioned by Tom Berger, president, Mrs. Jessie Mendels, secretary, and C. P. Neale, treasurer.

Said Mrs. Mendels: "For us it means, at this moment, not building an election fund at all—which we should be doing—but getting on a debt-free basis. If we can't do that, we can't participate in an election campaign."

$14,000 DEFICIT

Mr. Neale said the office has a deficit of nearly $14,000. He said the party should set its sights on a budget of $58,000.

He and Mr. Berger proposed increases in membership fees.

They said the June federal election was called before a victory campaign fund drive was properly in progress. This drive only resulted in $28,715 collected out of a target of $100,000.

HATED WORDS

Mr. Berger made the reference to tight money and austerity, hated words in the party.

Role for NDP:

Sane Voice in Mad World

NEW WESTMINSTER (CP)—T. C. Douglas said Friday one of Canada's greatest contributions to the Cuban crisis is to "speak with sanity in a world filled with hysteria."

The National leader of the New Democratic Party added the role of the NDP should be "the salt of sanity in a world that's going mad."

'TAKE BEAM OUT'

He said the NDP must say to Canada and the United States while taking the mote out of the other fellow's eye, they had better take the beam out of their own.

Mr. Douglas, elected Monday to a seat in the Commons in a byelection in Burnaby-Coquitlam, was speaking to a cheering audience of about 400 at the annual convention of the B.C. branch of the party.

CAUTIOUS APPROACH

He urged delegates to take a cautious and moderate approach to the Cuban crisis and urged them to look at both sides of the question.

He continued his criticism of the United States unilateral action in blockading Cuba without informing her allies at the United Nations.

He said the Cuban question should be put in the hands of the United Nations with the blockade operated by ships of non-aligned countries.

He repeated earlier remarks the crisis has put the UN in jeopardy.

LITTLE INFORMATION

He complained the world had little information on what the United States says are missile bases in Cuba.

He said later his opinion of the situation might change if there was evidence there were nuclear warheads for the missiles in Cuba. Such evidence might provide some reason for the urgency of the United States action.

PRESSING BUTTON

Mr. Douglas said the crisis strengthens the NDP position on restricting the growth of the nuclear club. He said if one nation acquired nuclear weapons then another nation would get them. The more nations acquired nuclear weapons the more the chance of some megalomaniac pressing a button and starting a nuclear holocaust.

'Fast Buck' Sought In Columbia Sale

NEW WESTMINSTER (CP)—Robert Strachan said Friday the Social Credit government of British Columbia is attempting to make a "fast buck" on Columbia River power which will enable the United States to build up industry and compete with Canada.

In a report to the second annual convention of the B.C. New Democratic Party, the legislature opposition leader said a classic example of this industry will be the competition of American aluminum with that produced at Kitimat by the Aluminum Company of Canada.

SELL BACK POWER

Premier Bennett wants to sell back power generated in the U.S. as a result of water storage on the Columbia River in Canada.

Mr. Strachan said sale of the power will allow the provincial government "to proceed with the development of the Peace River with the sole object of fulfilling their political promises to the residents of the north."

"In return they will expect these people to re-elect their Social Credit MLAs, and the people throughout the whole province will pay for this political bribe by being forced to use high-cost power from the Peace River."

He said the NDP is not prepared to "sell Canada down the river."

NEW WESTMINSTER (CP)—New Democratic Party leader T. C. Douglas said Friday the party will demand in Parliament to know whether Canada loses the rights to waters flowing over the border under the international Columbia River development treaty.

He said water is the most precious commodity in the world and 90,000 cubic feet of Columbia water per second flows into the United States.

Beekeepers Elect Victorian

Deputy minister of agriculture William MacGillivray and the president of the Canada Beekeepers' Council, Vic Mesley, were key speakers at the convention of B.C. Honey Producers' Association in Victoria.

R. E. Turner of Victoria was elected president and Agriculture Minister Frank Richter was made honorary president.

RCAF 'Useless' In Attack

By DAVE McINTOSH

OTTAWA (CP) — Reliable sources said Friday that the increased state of readiness for RCAF Air Defence Command is purely academic at this time.

They said that unless Canadian jet interceptors are armed with nuclear air-to-air rockets they would be grounded in event of a Soviet bomber attack on North America.

'CLUTTER UP'

The reason for this, they added, is that North American Air Defence Command feels that interceptors armed only with conventional armament would "clutter up" the sky and confuse radars controlling the operations of nuclear - armed American interceptors.

For this reason, the 64 RCAF supersonic Voodoo jet intereceptors took little part in NORAD's exercise Skyshield II last month. The attitude of NORAD headquarters, informants said, was that there was little point in exercising planes which would not be used in case of actual operations.

With conventional armament, RCAF jet interceptors could shoot down attacking bombers. But they could not destroy a bomber's nuclear cargo, which would detonate anyway.

Defence officials here are not so much concerned about possible attack from Cuba as they are—and have been for years—about possible attack from the Arctic. In other words, the assigned task of RCAF Air Defence Command remains the repulsion of any Russian assault.

Police Sound Cheque Alert

A warning has been issued by city police for all merchants to be wary of cashing certified cheques or cheques made by protectograph machines unless they are certain the cheques are good.

No reason for the warning was given by police.

"We can give no further information at this time," an official said.

'Wrong to Force Doukhobors'

Canada would be justified in the persecution of Freedomite Doukhobors if this was a pagan nation, a spokesman for the Sons of Freedom told an audience of 75 Victorians last night.

But since Canada professed to be a Christian nation, it was morally wrong to use force and violence to make the Doukhobors alter their concept of Christ's teachings, said Joe Podovinikoff, spokesman for the Fraternal Council of the Sons of Freedom.

MAN OF PEACE

Christ was a man of peace and Doukhobors, "simple people, tillers of the soil," had interpreted this to mean they too should be men of peace, said the speaker.

Appearing under the sponsorship of the Current Affairs Council of Greater Victoria, the Freedomite leader said Doukhobors had "dedicated their lives to the preservation of humanity."

"All 'isms'—nationalism, materialism, patriotism—are contrary to Christ's teachings."

The atom bomb, he added, was a product of this "conformist" thinking and acceptance of the philosophy of violence.

JOE PODOVINIKOFF

★ ★ ★

"We can see nothing valuable or worth while to conform to . . . if all this technical knowledge is only capable of producing what we have today, that is, the possibility of pressing a button and destroying mankind."

WANT NO PART

As a Christian people, said Mr. Podovinikoff, the Doukhobors wanted no part of the responsibility, even indirectly by paying taxes, of the destruction of mankind.

He blamed the terrorism in the Kootenays on "provocateurs" and said the authorities had refused to act on information supplied as to the perpetrators of the "first bombing, which took the life of nine persons, including Peter Lordly Verigin."

THREE FACTIONS

The sect was divided into three opposing factions, he said, and "our most vicious foes are among our own people . . . ones with different views who want to see us removed."

He charged the Trail newspaper with pursuing a vendetta of hate for the Freedomite sect, and read editorials from the newspaper terming his people "subversives" and their leader "insane."

REFUSED TO ACT

Authorities had consistently refused to act on complainis by Freedomites that many acts of terrorism were perpetrated by their enemies.

"The authorities abetted and gave encouragement to the very faction we know was causing the trouble."

Cowichan School Jobs

Victoria Builder Chosen

DUNCAN — Herb Bate Construction Ltd. of Victoria was successful with its lowest bids for two construction projects in Cowichan school district, a six-room annex for Duncan Elementary School and a classroom addition at the Mill Bay School.

The Cowichan school board accepted the bids of $63,868 for the annex and $11,547 for the addition, subject to governmental approval. Original estimates were $79,000 and $12,500.

Other tenders for the annex were Cowichan Construction, Duncan, $75,167; Burak Construction, Duncan, $64,514; M and G Construction, Victoria, $68,912; G. E. Millhouse, North Vancouver, $68,514; E. J. Hunter and Sons, Victoria, 65,312; Hygrade Construction, Victoria, $73,552, and H. E. Fowler and Sons, Victoria, $71,563.

Bids for the classroom were Cowichan Construction, $12,910; M and G, $12,490; Hunter and Sons, $11,675; Hygrade, $14,389, and M. P. Paine Co., Victoria, $13,795.

Building committee members felt there was no valid reason not to accept the lowest tender although one trustee said it was too bad the contract couldn't be let to a local firm. Trustee Harold Whitfield said the chosen contractor is known in Victoria for his good reputation.

Sincerest thanks and highest praise were extended to the Quamichan School choir which sang at the opening of the recent trustees' convention in Victoria.

HOTEL CRITICIZED

Trustees felt the convention was very well organized but registration at the Empress Hotel left much to be desired. Chairman Wilf Peck said the hotel has a large staff during the summer season but did not have sufficient people to tackle the influx of convention participants.

Paddle, Jail For Youths

DUNCAN — Five strokes of the paddle each and long terms in B.C. Penitentiary were handed out yesterday in magistrate's court here to two youths who admitted the violent robbery of storekeeper Mrs. Elizabeth St. Clair, 70.

Bruce Showalter, 18, of Chemainus, will serve five years and Gunther Horyna, 17, of Youbou, 4½ years. They admitted breaking into the living quarters before the store and taking $128 after clubbing and binding Mrs. St. Clair.

YMCA Boys Tour Dockyard

Forty members of the Victoria YMCA Rubberneck Club, boys 9 to 16, will pay a two-hour visit to HMC Dockyard today as part of their "know your community" project.

Royal Roads Cadets Finding How All Services Operate

Royal Roads cadets begin their "military weekend" Sunday when first-year cadets visit working units of their own service while second-year cadets learn how another service operates.

RCAF station Comox will play host to 77 cadets. They will be divided into groups for tours of the base, including visits to 407 Maritime Patrol Squadron and 409 All Weather Interceptor Squadron.

Sixty officer cadets will go to sea in six frigates of Pacific Command's Fourth Canadian Escort Squadron. A seven-hour cruise in Juan de Fuca Strait will include ship manoeuvres, jackstay transfers of cadets between ships underway and operational tours of the frigates.

Remainder of the cadets will go Monday to Work Point. They will be taken on a circuit of the area and will be shown what a day in the life of an infantry lieutenant is like.

Train Strike Averted

MONTREAL (CP) — The CPR and the Brotherhood of Railroad Trainmen settled their contract dispute early today, ending the threat of a nation-wide strike Monday.

The settlement of the dispute, largely over a series of complicated work rules, came after six days of talks between the railway, the union and federal mediator William Dickie of Toronto.

WAGE INCREASE

If the 6,000 trainmen had gone on strike Monday, it would have halted all train operations on the CPR's 17,000 miles of track.

A walkout would not have affected the CNR.

The railway and union apparently agreed earlier on an eight per cent wage increase.

Nehru Gears For War

NEW DELHI (Reuters) — India declared a nation-wide state of emergency Friday as Prime Minister Nehru said Chinese border attacks are a virtual invasion of the whole country.

President Radhakrishnan proclaimed a state of emergency giving the government the right to suspend civil rights, introduce censorship and detain persons without trial.

SESSION CALLED

A session of Parliament has been called for Nov. 8 and immediate approval of the proclamation is expected.

It was understood the government has requisitioned airliners to rush supplies to the border.

The defence ministry said there had been new fighting with heavy casualties during which Indian troops threw back two Chinese attacks on the eastern front.

Rear-View Incident

Pincher Gives In Driver Blows Up

BUENOS AIRES (UPI) — Argentines, like Italians, cannot resist the temptation to pinch when they see a pretty girl.

The victim was curvaceous Swedish automobile racer Ursula Wirth, co-driver of the winning Mercedes-Benz in a race, bent for a last-minute tightening up of the wheel nuts of her car.

It was too much for an ardent mechanic who pinched the golden-haired Swedish miss.

The furious Ursula almost brained the man with her wrench.

A roar went up from the huge crowd and a policeman had to fire two shots in the air before quiet was restored.

Falling Wall Kills Six U.S. Firemen

NEW YORK (UPI)—A wall collapsed last night as firemen battled a five-alarm blaze in a soap factory, killing at least six firemen and injuring 15 others.

Deputy mayor Edward Cavanaugh, former New York fire commissioner, who rushed to the blaze, said others might be trapped in the rubble.

BODIES RECOVERED

An hour and a half after the department answered the first call at the Sefu Fat and Soap Co., five bodies had been recovered. One other body was still trapped and another fireman was still covered by rubble, but officials were not sure whether he was still alive.

The wall collapsed as the height of the blaze in the two-storey wooden structure.

LUMBER CARTED

Scores of city-owned trucks carted heavy lumber to the scene to try to shore up the rubble to speed the search.

Cavanaugh said fire officials were trying to count the men to determine if any others were buried, but they were spread over a wide area.

Fifteen men who were under the wall when it gave way were taken to Elmhurst General Hospital. Some were said to be in serious condition.

Three Miss Death

Lengthy Description

Have You Seen Him? If So, Contact RCMP

* * *

Drawings produced by RCMP investigators.

The RCMP asks you to stop for a moment, as you read this newspaper, and think carefully.

Have you seen this man?

In an appeal to the public last night, police asked anyone who has seen a man answering the following description, or resembling the man in this sketch, to get in touch with the RCMP immediately.

Here is the description:

He is between 20 and 30 years of age and stands from five feet, 11 inches to six feet tall. He is of medium build with blue or green eyes. He has light-brown curly or wavy hair and was clean-shaven when last seen.

PANTS TUCKED IN

At that time he was wearing a light tan windbreaker with trousers to match. A T-shirt was under the windbreaker. He wore 14-inch-high brown boots, unlaced, with his pants tucked into them.

He speaks without an accent.

When last seen, he was driving a new-looking, well-kept black car with three tail lights on each side—perhaps a 1961 Chevrolet. The dashboard was light blue and higher on the driver's side.

REDS HOLD SHIPS BACK AS CUBA BASES GROW

'Further Action' Hinted

WASHINGTON (AP)—The White House reported late Friday the Soviets are continuing rapid development of their Cuban missile sites.

"The activity at these sites apparently is directed at achieving a full operational capability as soon as possible," the statement said.

This new surveillance report was issued a few hours after a state department spokesman publicly underscored President Kennedy's Monday night statement that:

FURTHER ACTION

"Should these offensive military preparations continue, thus increasing the threat to the hemisphere, further action will be justified."

There was tight official silence on what "further action" might be taken but ten-ton mounted again after a brief respite that came when two U.S. destroyers halted and searched without incident a Soviet supply ship bound for Cuba.

CITES KENNEDY

The president's press secretary, Pierre Salinger, said in issuing the statement on the continuing missile buildup in Cuba that it should be taken in the context of Kennedy's Monday night radio-television broadcast.

In that speech the president announced the United States was calling in the United Nations for the prompt dismantling and withdrawal of all offensive weapons in Cuba. He said the purpose of the Cuban bases "can be none other than to provide a nuclear strike capability against the western hemisphere."

NO EVIDENCE

Friday's White House statement said "there is no evidence to date indicating that there is any intention to dismantle or discontinue work on these missile sites."

Representative Don Magnuson, (Dem. Wash.) told reporters after a government briefing of west coast congressmen and governors in San Francisco that the Soviets were maintaining complete control over the work, even excluding Cubans from sensitive areas at the missile sites. Magnuson said the western briefing session also was

Nikita Cuts Risk

UNITED NATIONS (CP)—Soviet Premier Khrushchev told Acting Secretary-General U Thant Friday night he has ordered Soviet ships bound for Cuba to stay out of the interception area of what he termed U.S. pirate warships for a limited time.

And President Kennedy said that if the Soviet government abides by the United Nations chief's request the United States will do everything possible to avoid direct confrontation with Soviet ships in the "next few days to minimize the risk of any untoward incident."

IN TWO LETTERS

The assurances of Khrushchev and Kennedy were contained in letters to Thant in reply to pleas addressed by the secretary-general to them Thursday asking for their co-operation during his preliminary attempts to set up negotiations.

Khrushchev said the Soviet government has "ordered the masters of Soviet vessels bound for Cuba but not yet within the area of the American warships' piratical activities to stay out of

Berlin Traffic Checked

BERLIN (AP)—East German frontier guards subjected Berlin-bound truck traffic to unusual inspection Friday.

West Berlin police said drivers arriving here had been held up for from four to five hours on the western end of the highway link and compelled to unload cargoes for minute scrutiny.

This has not happened to truckers plying to Berlin for more than a year.

The tighter controls were imposed from about 6 a.m. until shortly before noon. After that, traffic was permitted through without inspection.

Latins On Anti-U.S. Spree

UPI

Violent rioting and terror bombings erupted in more than half a dozen Latin American capitals in the aftermath of the U.S. arms blockade of Cuba.

The worst incident occurred Friday night in La Paz, Bolivia, when some 3,000 anti-American Bolivian labor union members staged a demonstration of support for Castro near the U.S. Embassy. At least two persons were reported killed and 18 wounded, police reported.

The disorders began when anti-Castro students stoned a pro-Castro radio station and then attacked a pro-Communist bookstore. The labor union retaliated with a march through the city's main street shouting anti-American slogans.

Caracas and Buenos Aires also were hit hard.

During Thursday night at least 14 bombs exploded in front of American-owned business houses and government installations in Caracas, including the barracks of the presidential palace guards. Three persons were injured.

EXPOSITION HIT

In Buenos Aires, a U.S. commerce department-sponsored exposition on the Alliance for Progress was the target of Castroite fire-bombers for the second straight night.

In Santo Domingo, Dominican Republic, political demonstrations of the most radical of the 28 political parties soon evolved into police-fighting mobs intent on storming the U.S. embassy.

De Gaulle Urges Yes-Vote Sunday

PARIS (Reuters) — President de Gaulle told the French people Friday they will decide Sunday whether he "shall continue in the role of chief-of-state."

De Gaulle made the statement in a final radio and television appeal for a "yes" vote in the Oct. 28 referendum on his plan to amend the constitution so future French presidents will be elected by popular vote rather than by an electoral college.

De Gaulle warned if he did not receive massive support but only "vague and doubtful" backing, he could feel it necessary to resign.

"The main issue," he said, "is whether I shall continue in the role of chief of state."

United Fund Goal in Sight

Greater Victoria's United Appeal returns edged past the 70 per cent mark yesterday with a total of $251,755 collected.

"This compares with just over 60 per cent of the goal which was collected during the same time period last year," a spokesman said.

On a division-by-division analysis, he said, indications were favorable for the drive to meet the $360,000 goal needed to keep 23 health, welfare and family service agencies operating during 1963.

Meanwhile, the residential campaign has reached 42 per cent of its $80,000 objective with returns averaging $3,500 a day.

Persons missed in the door-to-door campaign can mail their donations to United Appeal headquarters at Spencerhouse, 1951 Cook.

Campaigners recorded their biggest day up to 10 a.m. yesterday when a total of $21,000 was recorded from all divisions.

A further $10,000 was pledged from 10 a.m. to 4 p.m.

Bulk of Thursday's returns came from teachers and school maintenance staffs, the industrial-commercial division and provincial government employees.

At Local Airstrip

Three Survive Takeoff Crash

Death looked the other way when a light airplane carrying three Victorians crashed on takeoff at the Butler Brothers airstrip in Central Saanich yesterday.

The six-year-old Stinson owned and piloted by Joseph Howroyd, 10612 Madrona, narrowly missed high-tension powerlines as it plummeted over a 75-foot cliff at the foot of the airstrip.

MINOR INJURIES

Passengers Jack Todd, 451 Newport and 16-year-old David Askey, 7356 Wallace Drive, were taken to hospital by passing motorists for treatment of minor injuries.

Mr. Todd required stitches to close a deep gash to his head, received when he fell against the door post of the light plane.

DOG UNHURT

The Askey boy suffered a wrenched back. Mr. Todd's dog Gunner, escaped injury. The pilot suffered a minor head cut.

Mr. Howroyd said he was halfway down the sloping, 2,000-foot runway when power cut out of his engine.

ICED CARBURETOR

He blamed the failure on an iced carburetor.

"I didn't have enough fuel to stop before we went over the bank," he said.

The plane soared over the bank, narrowly missing the power lines, and snagged into heavy telephone cables across the road.

DOWN EASY

"They kind of let us down easy," said Mr. Howroyd. He estimated, his air speed as about 60 miles an hour.

The crash was the first experienced at the airstrip, in operation since 1955.

Car Sped Away As Fire Erupted

Blaze Hits Peak

By GEORGE WYNDLOW

NANAIMO — A mysterious black car was seen speeding out of the S. Madill Ltd. property early Friday as a $300,000 fire was beginning to destroy the firm's big machinery-making plant.

Police said the fire of unknown origin apparently began about 1 a.m. and had been burning for some time before passing motorist William Lehman, 821 Douglas Road, saw it and started for the firehall to sound the alarm.

AT HIGH SPEED

Mr. Lehman was crossing the George Pearson bridge and, when he slowed down momentarily to see how extensive the fire was, he saw a late-model black car of U.S. make come out of the Madill lot at high speed.

He assumed the driver was going to give the alarm but decided to drive to the firehall anyway. When he arrived, he found no alarm had been turned in.

FEW MINUTES

When Mr. Lehman first saw the fire, it was burning only at the waterfront end of the shed. By the time firemen arrived—it was within a few minutes—the whole of the large building was enveloped in flames.

The firemen had to continue their battle until almost 7 a.m. because of a brisk west wind and continuous explosions of oil drums in the wreckage.

TANK SAVED

Fifteen sets of welding apparatus were destroyed but the central acetylene tank which supplied them did not explode. If it had, officials said, the entire area might have been devastated.

As it was, the Madill shipyard, other buildings and the nearby civic arena were saved.

NEW DESIGN

The machine shop was producing a steel spar and self-propelled log loader of a new design on which the company had been working for some time and in which $90,000 had been invested. This machine was at or near the point at which the fire started.

In spite of the loss, there will not be any extensive layoff among the 60 employees.

WORK AS USUAL

The main office, tool crib, drafting room and shipbuilding room were saved.

In the latter, a 40-foot seagoing tug and a number of boom boats were being built. The crew worked as usual in this department Friday.

Managing director Charles Madill said it would be possible to obtain new equipment quickly and get back into production within a comparatively short time. Most of the loss was insured.

Fatal Crash

Driver Fined $500

A $500 fine yesterday was levied against AB Frederick William Empey, HMCS Naden, convicted of dangerous driving as the result of a two-car crash on the Malahat which killed Mrs. Gladys Dobbie, 48.

Mr. Justice Craig Munroe suspended the driver's licence of the sailor for five years.

THREE MONTHS

Empey was told he may pay the fine in $100 monthy instalments but must serve a three-month jail term if he fails to pay.

Empey had been charged with criminal negligence in the May 21 accident but a jury Thursday found him guilty of the lesser charge of dangerous driving.

STATION WAGON

Mrs. Dobbie was sitting beside Empey, with another couple in the back seat, when his car collided with an oncoming station wagon driven by Norman Fraser Putnam, 1958 Hampshire, and containing his wife, another couple and three children.

Mr. Putnam testified during the trial he could remember nothing between the time his group set out from a picnic for Victoria and his coming to in hospital after the accident.

Nanaimo

Brawler Fined $150

NANAIMO — Magistrate Lionel Beever-Potts has convicted George Chadwick, resident of the Cedar district, on a charge of assault causing bodily harm.

Frank Hewitt, also of Cedar, suffered a broken jaw requiring special treatment in Vancouver, in a brawl outside a beer parlor Sept. 2. Hewitt testified he had become involved with Chadwick as a result of going to the aid of his wife, who had been engaged in a fight with Chadwick's wife in the beer parlor just before closing time.

The fight between Chadwick and Hewitt took place outside the beer parlor in the parking lot and Hewitt stated that, as a result of the blows he received from Chadwick, he lost consciousness.

The magistrate fined Chadwick $150 and stated that, if the fight had been anything other than a beer parlor brawl the penalty would have been much stiffer.

Cowichan Trustees Pick Victoria Firm

DUNCAN — Herb Bate Construction Ltd. of Victoria was successful with its lowest bids for two construction projects in Cowichan school district, a six-room annex for Duncan Elementary School and a classroom addition at the Mill Bay School.

The Cowichan school board accepted the bids of $63,868 for the annex and $11,547 for the addition, subject to governmental approval. Original estimates were $79,000 and $12,500.

Other tenders for the annex were Cowichan Construction, Duncan, $75,167; Burak Construction, Duncan, $64,514; M and G Construction, Victoria, $68,912; G. E. Millhouse, North Vancouver, $68,514; E. J. Hunter and Sons, Victoria, 65,312; Hygrade Construction, Victoria, $73,552, and H. E. Fowler and Sons, Victoria, $71,563.

Bids for the classroom were Cowichan Construction, $12,910; M and G, $12,490; Hunter and Sons, $11,873; Hygrade, $14,389, and M. P. Paine Co., Victoria, $13,795.

Building committee members felt there was no valid reason not to accept the lowest tender although one trustee said it was too bad the contract couldn't be let to a local firm. Trustee Harold Whitfield said the chosen contractor is known in Victoria for his good reputation.

As the department of education has not yet given the green light for a building project at the Maple Bay School, trustee Joe Frumento suggested inviting a government offical to inspect temporary accomodations to judge the urgent need of permanent quarters.

BY CHRISTMAS

The board learned the Quamichan school addition is expected to be completed by Christmas. Trustees decided to have plans prepared for conversion at Cowichan Senior High Secondary School of two classrooms into a soundproof music room, possibly during the Christmas holidays.

Sincerest thanks and highest praise were extended to the Quamichan School choir which sang at the opening of the recent trustees' convention in Victoria.

HOTEL CRITICIZED

Trustees felt the convention was very well organized but registration at the Empress Hotel left much to be desired. Chairman Wilf Peck said the hotel has a large staff during the summer season but did not have sufficient people to tackle the influx of convention participants.

School district employees, who are IWA members, expressed "disappointment" with the new payday system known as a bank account payroll plan to begin soon.

EXPLAIN DETAILS

Board secretary-treasurer G. P. Dyson, who said the plan will streamline administration work, will meet union officials to explain details. It was learned employees who did not sign an agreement slip will receive their pay Oct. 31 in the usual way.

Trustees decided to introduce the position of vice-principal at junior and secondary schools with 10 or more classrooms.

Minor Hockey Begun

PORT ALBERNI — All boys, regardless of ability should have the same amount of ice time, according to opinions expressed at a preliminary meeting for the organization of a minor hockey league.

Hoping ice will be available in a few months in the city's new curling-skating rink, the group made plans for an organizational meeting, discussed plans for registration and spoke of methods for ensuring youngsters receive full benefit of the facilities.

Under chairmanship of Ald. Earle Bowen, head of Port Alberni recreation commission, half a dozen men interested in promoting hockey for nine to 18-year-old boys got to work.

Adviser was Bob Reid, a member of the Victoria Minor Hockey League executive, who said the new arena will accommodate up to eight minor hockey teams at one time. He predicted registration here would be oversubscribed within a year and said 400 boys was the most that could be handled efficiently in a league.

Strict discipline was advocated by Mr. Reid, who asked officials should not worry whether youngsters had skated before.

NIKITA STOPS SHIPS SHORT OF BLOCKADE

Rear-View Incident

Pincher Gives In Driver Blows Up

BUENOS AIRES (UPI) — Argentines, like Italians, cannot resist the temptation to pinch when they see a pretty girl.

The victim was curvaceous Swedish automobile racer Ursula Wirth, co-driver of the winning Mercedes-Benz in a race, bent for a last-minute tightening up of the wheel nuts of her car.

It was too much for an ardent mechanic who pinched the golden-haired Swedish miss.

The furious Ursula almost brained the man with her wrench.

A roar went up from the huge crowd and a policeman had to fire two shots in the air before quiet was restored.

Railway Strike Averted

MONTREAL (CP) — The CPR and the Brotherhood of Railroad Trainmen settled their contract dispute early today, ending the threat of a nation-wide strike Monday.

The settlement of the dispute, largely over a series of complicated work rules, came after six days of talks between the railway, the union and federal mediator William Dickie of Toronto.

If the 6,000 trainmen had gone on strike Monday, it would have halted all train operations on the CPR's 17,000 miles of track.

The railway and union apparently agreed earlier on an eight per cent wage increase.

Nehru Gears For War

NEW DELHI (Reuters)—India declared a nation-wide state of emergency Friday as Prime Minister Nehru said Chinese border attacks are a virtual invasion of the whole country.

President Radhakrishnan proclaimed a state of emergency giving the government the right to suspend civil rights, introduce censorship and detain persons without trial.

A session of Parliament has been called for Nov. 8 and immediate approval of the proclamation is expected.

It was understood the government has requisitioned airliners to rush supplies to the border.

Falling Wall Kills Six U.S. Firemen

NEW YORK (UPI)—A wall collapsed last night as firemen battled a five-alarm blaze in a soap factory, killing at least six firemen and injuring 15 others.

Deputy mayor Edward Cavanaugh, former New York fire commissioner, who rushed to the blaze, said others might be trapped in the rubble.

BODIES RECOVERED

An hour and a half after the department answered the first call at the Sefu Fat and Soap Co., five bodies had been recovered. One other body was still trapped and another fireman was still covered by rubble, but officials were not sure whether he was still alive.

The wall collapsed at the height of the blaze in the two-storey wooden structure.

LUMBER CARTED

Scores of city-owned trucks carted heavy lumber to the scene to try to shore up the rubble to speed the search.

Cavanaugh said fire officials were trying to count the men to determine if any others were buried, but they were spread over a wide area.

Fifteen men who were under the wall when it gave way were taken to Elmhurst General Hospital. Some were said to be in serious condition.

Three Miss Death

Telephone lines beside Keating Cross Road broke impact for aircraft, carrying three persons. There were no serious injuries. See story, Page 13.—(Ryan Bros. photo.)

Missile Bases Growing

WASHINGTON (AP)—The White House reported late Friday the Soviets are continuing rapid development of their Cuban missile sites.

"The activity at these sites apparently is directed at achieving a full operational capability as soon as possible," the statement said.

This new surveillance report was issued a few hours after a state department spokesman publicly underscored President Kennedy's Monday night statement that:

FURTHER ACTION

"Should these offensive military preparations continue, thus increasing the threat to the hemisphere, further action will be justified."

There was tight official silence on what "further action" might be taken but tension mounted again after a brief respite that came when two U.S. destroyers halted and searched without incident a Soviet supply ship bound for Cuba.

CITES KENNEDY

The president's press secretary, Pierre Salinger, said in issuing the statement on the continuing missile buildup in Cuba that it should be taken in the context of Kennedy's Monday night radio-television broadcast.

In that speech the president announced the United States was calling in the United Nations for the prompt dismantling and withdrawal of all offensive weapons in Cuba. He said the purpose of the Cuban bases "can be none other than to provide a nuclear strike capability against the western hemisphere."

NO EVIDENCE

Friday's White House statement said "there is no evidence to date indicating that there is any intention to dismantle or discontinue work on these missile sites."

Representative Don Magnuson (Dem., Wash.) told reporters after a government briefing of west coast congressmen and governors in San Francisco that the Soviets were maintaining complete control over the work, even excluding Cubans, from sensitive areas at the missile sites. Magnuson said the western briefing session also was

Russian Limit 'Brief'

UNITED NATIONS (CP)—Soviet Premier Khrushchev told Acting Secretary-General U Thant Friday night he has ordered Soviet ships bound for Cuba to stay out of the interception area of what he termed U.S. pirate warships for a limited time.

And President Kennedy said that if the Soviet government abides by the United Nations chief's request the United States will do everything possible to avoid direct confrontation with Soviet ships in the "next few days to minimize the risk of any untoward incident."

IN TWO LETTERS

The assurances of Khrushchev and Kennedy were contained in letters to Thant in reply to pleas addressed by the secretary-general to them Thursday asking for their co-operation during his preliminary attempts to set up negotiations.

Khrushchev said the Soviet government has "ordered the masters of Soviet vessels bound for Cuba but not yet within the area of the American warships' piratical activities to stay out of

Berlin Traffic Checked

BERLIN (AP)—East German frontier guards subjected Berlin-bound truck traffic to unusual inspection Friday.

West Berlin police said drivers arriving here had been held up for from four to five hours on the western end of the highway link and compelled to unload cargoes for minute scrutiny.

This has not happened to truckers plying to Berlin for more than a year.

The tighter controls were imposed from about 6 a.m. until shortly before noon. After that, traffic was permitted through without inspection.

Lengthy Description

Have You Seen Him? If So, Contact RCMP

* * *

Drawings produced by RCMP investigators.

The RCMP asks you to stop for a moment, as you read this newspaper, and think carefully.

Have you seen this man?

In an appeal to the public last night, police asked anyone who has seen a man answering the following description, or resembling the man in this sketch, to get in touch with the RCMP immediately.

Here is the description:

He is between 20 and 30 years of age and stands from five feet, 11 inches to six feet tall. He is of medium build with blue or green eyes. He has light-brown curly or wavy hair and was clean-shaven when last seen.

PANTS TUCKED IN

At that time he was wearing a light tan windbreaker with trousers to match. A T-shirt was under the windbreaker. He wore 14-inch-high brown boots, unlaced, with his pants tucked into them.

He speaks without an accent.

When last seen, he was driving a new-looking, well-kept black car with three tall lights on each side—perhaps a 1961 Chevrolet. The dashboard was light blue and higher on the driver's side.

Latins On Anti-U.S. Spree

By UPI

Violent rioting and terror bombings erupted in more than half a dozen Latin American capitals in the aftermath of the U.S. arms blockade of Cuba.

The worst incident occurred Friday night in La Paz, Bolivia, when some 3,000 anti-American Bolivian labor union members staged a demonstration of support for Castro near the U.S. Embassy. At least two persons were reported killed and 18 wounded, police reported.

The disorders began when anti-Castro students stoned a pro-Castro radio station and then attacked a pro-Communist bookstore. The labor union retaliated with a march through the city's main street shouting anti-American slogans.

Caracas and Buenos Aires also were hit hard.

EXPOSITION HIT

During Thursday night at least 14 bombs exploded in front of American-owned business houses and government installations in Caracas, including the barracks of the presidential palace guards. Three persons were injured.

In Buenos Aires, a U.S. commerce department-sponsored exposition on the Alliance for Progress was the target of Castroite fire-bombers for the second straight night.

In Santo Domingo, Dominican Republic, political demonstrations of the most radical of the 28 political parties soon evolved into police-fighting mobs intent on storming the U.S. embassy.

TAKE REFUGE

In Managua, Nicaragua, the pro-Communist University Students for Peace organization took refuge in the autonomous University of Leon after an anti-American demonstration.

De Gaulle Urges Yes Vote Sunday

PARIS (Reuters) — President de Gaulle told the French people Friday they will decide Sunday whether he "shall continue in the role of chief-of-state."

De Gaulle made the statement in a final radio and television appeal for a "yes" vote in the Oct. 28 referendum on his plan to amend the constitution so future French presidents will be elected by popular vote rather than by an electoral college.

De Gaulle warned if he did not receive massive support but only "vague and doubtful" backing, he could feel it necessary to resign.

"The main issue," he said, "is whether I shall continue in the role of chief of state."

Two Guilty Of Bribery

VANCOUVER (CP) — Vancouver lawyer Rockmill Myers and William Robertson Friday were found guilty of bribing an RCMP officer to get protection for a proposed swank gambling casino at the Wigwam Inn seaside resort. Sentence will be pronounced Tuesday.
